At Least One Good Clue Is Uncovered In Murder Probe

State police, working around-the-clock in an effort to solve the mystery of the murder of Mrs. Kermit Paxton, 40-year-old mother of two girls, who was found slain in her home near Gardners, eight days ago, have more than one clue that may lead to the slayer.

One clue, which is believed to be the best of those uncovered by the troopers and which The Times learned of from an unofficial but reliable source, was admitted by the investigating officers. However, since its importance is so significant The Times is voluntarily withholding its publication. The Times feels, and the police agree although they did not make the request, that publication of it may create an obstacle in their investigation. If the clue is fruitful it will be published.

Sgt. David James, in charge of the local state police barracks, said that hundreds of persons, migrants and others, have been questioned. Residents of every migrant camp in Adams, Franklin, York, Dauphin and Cumberland Counties have been quizzed. Many others have come under the careful scrutiny of the investigating officers under the supervision of Corporal James A. Treas, from the local barracks.

Wednesday the troopers were running a spot-check at the scene of the crime, stopping every vehicle and questioning the occupants. It is routine work as is done in road blocks and other police investigations.

Shortly after 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon troopers uncovered some additional information during the spot-check assignment.

The slaying has thrown the entire Gardners-Aspers area into a state of fear and suspense. Housewives are keeping their doors bolted, most will not step outside unless accompanied by another person, preferably a man, and school children in many instances are guarded by their parents.

The tension has spread around the county. And because householders are aware that a killer is at large, they are attaching chainlocks to their already locked doors. Hardware stores report a heavy sale of the chain pieces.

SYMPHONY TO GIVE CONCERT HERE DEC. 3

The Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra will present a concert in the Gettysburg High School auditorium on Monday, December 3, at 8:15 p.m. Plans for the concert were announced to representatives of 18 area organizations at a dinner Wednesday night in the Hotel Gettysburg.

Julian Estep, area manager for Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania, Inc., said the orchestra would again appear under gas company sponsorship and the entire proceeds of the concert would go to community service projects of the participating clubs.

Two previous concerts in 1958 and 1960 raised $5,300 for the 18 ticket-selling organizations, Estep reported. Arrangements for the concert are handled by a local committee working with club

Castro Refuses To Let U.N. Inspect Removal Of Soviet Missiles From Cuban Bases

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Navy ships resumed their arms blockade of Cuba at daybreak today and air surveillance was ordered renewed after Fidel Castro evidently refused to agree to U.N. inspection of Soviet missile withdrawals.

Washington officials probably will want to verify with aerial photos a report by U. Thant, acting secretary-general, that all Soviet missiles would be taken down by Friday and removed from Cuba soon afterward. Thant said he was reliably informed of this Wednesday in Havana.

The blockade, suspended during two days of evidently fruitless negotiations between Thant and Fidel Castro, was due to go back into force at dawn. Its assignment, as before, is to keep additional offensive weapons out of Cuba.

PLANES RESUME WORK

The White House announced this Wednesday night after President

Dr. Glatfelter To Be DAR Speaker

"Adams County in the Civil War" will be the subject of a talk to be given by Dr. Charles H. Glatfelter, dean of Gettysburg College, to the members of the Gettysburg chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at their November meeting Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Long, R. 6.

Members of the chapter are reminded to bring Christmas gifts for DAR schools to this meeting.

Hostesses will include Mrs. Long, Mrs. Luther Beagle, Miss Charlotte Rogers, Mrs. Clarence C. Smith, Mrs. Darryl F. Holmes Jr., Miss Alice Snyder, Mrs. Paul Group, Mrs. Fred Troxell, Miss Beatrice Pfeffer, Miss Sue Ella Harper, Miss Lela Harper, Mrs. Harry Pfanz, Miss June Bigham, Mrs. Carl Baumgardner, Mrs. A. Z. Rogers and Mrs. Wilbur Baker.

DENY REPORTS EISENHOWERS TO SELL FARM

Reports that General and Mrs. Eisenhower had offered to sell their property to the federal government were denied today by a spokesman at Gen. Eisenhower's office here.

Newspapers and Newsweek magazine published a story today stating that the farm was offered to the government as a "shrine" and that the Eisenhowers preferred a smaller house, perhaps near a golf course in California.

General Eisenhower and several members of his staff are in New York today. The Gettysburg Times asked another staff member at the office about the published report. There was no confirmation. Later, after talking with General Schulz, Gen. Eisenhower's military aide, in New York, The Times was advised, "There is no basis to the story."

ERRONEOUS REPORT

Newsweek carried this paragraph: "The Eisenhower farm here may soon be government property. The former President has already conferred with Interior Secretary Stewart Udall and Pennsylvania's Democratic Sen. Joseph Clark about turning over the 406-acre property to the federal government. Ike's motive: A personal preference for a smaller home—in the year-around sun-and-golf climate of California's desert country."

Gen. Eisenhower did not confer with Udall and Clark about the sale of his farm. Clark has never been on the farm. Udall has on one occasion, briefly, but not on business.

Udall and Clark were in Gettysburg.

Woman Foils Young Burglar

Borough police today were searching for a rosy-cheeked, black-haired, young white man, either in his late teens or early 20s, who attempted to break into the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. C. Richard Wolff, 218 York St., early this morning.

Mrs. Wolff, who underwent an operation in the Carlisle Hospital recently, returned home from the hospital Wednesday. Since her husband is employed by a Harrisburg newspaper and thus was on duty there Wednesday, Mrs. Wolff invited a friend to remain with her.

About 2:30 o'clock this morning Mrs. Wolff and the guest were awakened by a noise. Mrs. Wolff asked her guest if she would investigate. When the woman turned on the light in the TV room of the one-floor apartment, she saw a white man, rosy-cheeked and black-haired, aged around the early 20s or late teens, halfway in the window. The man fled when the light was turned on, and Mrs. Wolff and her guest called police, who are continuing their investigation.

HUNTERS RETURN

Bruce Gallagher, Cashtown; Donald Chronister, Biglerville; and Wendell Wetzel, Gettysburg, have returned from a hunting trip to Tioga County where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit D. Wetzel, Solly, Md., at their hunting lodge, near Wellsboro.

SERVES ON DESTROYER

Robert D. Anders, ETNSN, who is serving on the destroyer Charles H. Roan, recently returned from a Caribbean training mission at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, Jamaica, B. W. I., San Juan, Puerto Rico. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Anders, R. 1.

Family Of 12 Can't Keep Two Abandoned Children

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Clutching bags of "tricks or treat" sweets, two abandoned youngsters were taken Wednesday night from the home of a laborer and his wife, whose pocketbook couldn't match the size of their hearts.

The children, known only as Mike and Lisa, were awakened at 9 o'clock by twopiece officers who took them to a county parental home.

Mike and Lisa left dry-eyed, unperturbed by the parting. Eugene L. Parisse and his wife would have preferred to keep the children.

"I wouldn't mind if we were financially fixed so we could take them on," said Mrs. Parisse.

HAVE 2 KIDDIES

But their 6-room house already is crowded to capacity—by their 12 children, ages 2 to 17, a dog and four pups.

Parisse, a construction worker, moonlights on two other jobs and still barely makes ends meet. His brood runs up a grocery bill averaging $65 a week.

60 TEACHERS BEGIN TO TRAIN ON C-D SETUP

A five-class course in Civil Defense for certified school teachers to train them as instructors in an adult education program in Civil Defense was launched Wednesday evening at Biglerville with 60 teachers in attendance.

The instructor is Mrs. Eleanor Bennett, coordinating administrator for the Civil Defense program with the state Department of Public Instruction at Harrisburg.

The county's Civil Defense director, William G. Weaver, gave the teachers a total picture of the in Adams County stating that the Civil Defense stature in Adams County states that the county rates extremely high among other counties in this area with respect to the number of structures available and suitable for use as fall-out shelters. He reviewed the complete CD organization here and said more than 800 persons are involved in some phase of Civil Defense now in this county.

COUNTY IS UNIQUE

The course aimed to instruct in individual, family and community protection will continue on the next four Wednesday evenings for a total of 15 hours of instruction. The classes they will conduct in communities throughout the county later in the winter will cover 12 hours and will be open to high school seniors and out-of-school adults over the age of 16 years. The teachers will be paid for conducting these adult education courses.

CD Director Weaver said all boroughs in the county and all but two townships have their own CD

Small Arsenal Is Found In Ole Miss Dormitory

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — A surprise Halloween night search by combat ready soldiers unearthed a small arsenal in a men's dormitory at the University of Mississippi. University officials vowed swift disciplinary action against students involved.

The sudden action followed the wounding of a military policeman by a firecracker, apparently tossed from a window of Lester Hall — adjoining Baxter Hall where James H. Meredith is housed.

Meredith, 29, begins his second month of classes today as the first Negro ever knowingly admitted to the 114-year-old university. He studied in relative silence Wednesday night. There were no firecracker barrages like those which disrupted the campus the previous two nights.

University officials cooperated in the dormitory search. Student Affairs Dean L. L. Love commented: "We just can't have things like that going on here. That soldier could have been seriously hurt."

LARGE CROWD VIEWS ANNUAL SPOOK PARADE

More than 5,000 persons crowded Chambersburg and Baltimore Sts. and Lincoln Square Wednesday night to watch the annual Halloween parade.

The spectators saw a nearly three-quarter hour long procession in which a variety of imagination-produced costumes disguised youngsters and adults who emulated ghosts, goblins and even an astronaut.

It was the haunting season. One float depicted a hunter in a cornfield, with Cub Scouts representing the scarecrows.

Cannibals cooked explorers in big pots and "Ben Casey's mistakes" appeared, carrying tombstones.

DELONE BAND FIRST

Three little Indians were described by some spectators as "adorable." A York Springs area float was in the form of a ship, entitled "Blue Mist." Another float showed "Madame Butterfly."

The Delone Catholic High School Band won first prize of $100 for bands. Fairfield High School won second place, $75, and Biglerville High School was third, winning the $50 award. All of the other bands were each presented $25 each.

The Gettysburg Fire Department Auxiliary "witches" won the $40 first prize for senior class.

OVER 24,000 COUNTY FOLK ELIGIBLE TO CAST BALLOTS

More than 24,000 Adams Countyans will be eligible to vote Tuesday to help select a U.S. senator, a governor, a secretary of internal affairs, a judge of the Supreme Court, a lieutenant governor, and a congressman, and to elect the man who will succeed Francis Worley of York Springs R. D. as the county's representative in the House at Harrisburg.

The vote could be close. Between Republicans and Democrats the list of voters is almost evenly divided. There are 11,591 registered as Democrats, 12,215 registered as Republicans, a difference of only 624.

But few were making any hard predictions concerning the outcome in the county. The Republicans have a slight registration edge and a number of persons who have been active in politics locally for many years believe the Republican party will carry the county. Others look to the Democrats for victory.

EXPECT CUT TICKETS

Most of the uncertainty comes from the fact that countyans are well known for splitting tickets and it is believed by the prognosticators that at least for U.S. senator, governor, congressman and assemblyman there will be many split tickets. As to which way the split will go, that answer varies with the person asked.

For four of the offices the voters will have three choices, Democratic, Republican and Socialist-Labor. For senator the voters will choose between Joseph S. Clark, Democrat; James E. VanZandt, Republican, and Arla A. Albaugh, Socialist-Labor; for governor, between Richardson Dilworth, Democrat; William W. Scranton, Republican, and George S. Taylor, Socialist-Labor; for secretary of internal affairs, (Continued On Page 3)

SECOND CHARGE

Harold W. Barnes, Fayetteville, has been charged with reckless driving before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder by borough police as a result of an accident on Buford Ave. early Monday morning. Harry Truett, 59, South Mountain, a passenger in Barnes' car at the time of the accident and who was arrested by borough police on a disorderly conduct charge, paid a fine of $10 and costs and was released from jail.

DOCTOR TO SPEAK

Dr. Ernest Coleman Jr., Gettysburg, will speak on care and diseases of the eyes at the dinner meeting of the Fairfield Lions Club Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the Lutheran parish house. Clarence Wilson, chairman of the club committee on sight conservation, is in charge of the program.

Theological School's Task Is Set Forth In Inaugural By Dr. Donald R. Heiges

"A Prospectus for a School of Theology" was presented by Dr. Donald Russel Heiges in the address he delivered Wednesday afternoon at his inauguration as ninth president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary. He developed three main theses which placed worship as the center of the school of theology, the study of God's truth and grace as its main task and the school's program of worship and work "in dynamic relationship with the world."

"Whether or not the idea becomes a reality depends largely upon the competence, the commitment and the community of faculty members," he said.

CONCENTRIC CIRCLES

Dr. Heiges said in part: "For the purpose of analysis the theses have been considered separately but the separation is artificial. What has been affirmed can be diagrammed in the form of three concentric circles. The center circle can be labeled 'worship,' the next circle 'work' and the third and outer circle 'world.' A constant movement should and will take place in any given school so that worship informs work, and work informs worship, and both are informed by the world, and, hopefully, in-

The Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary in its 137th year inaugurated its ninth president at impressive services Wednesday afternoon in the Church of the Abiding Presence on the campus.

Before a distinguished gathering of churchmen and educators, many of them alumni of the institution, Dr. Donald Russel Heiges, 32-year-old Biglerville native and graduate of Gettysburg College in 1931, was installed as the new chief executive of the institution from which he was graduated 28 years ago.

In the academic procession that preceded the inaugural ceremony were the two immediate past presidents of the institution, Dr. Harry F. Baughman, whom Dr. Heiges succeeds, and Dr. Abdel Ross Wentz, who was president before Dr. Baughman.

CHURCH OFFICIALS THERE

Presidents of four synods and an official representative of the new Lutheran Church in America participated in the formal inaugural ceremony. Every prayer, anthem and response used in the 75-minute service appeared in the printed program. Only the 40-minute inaugural address by Dr. Heiges was not reproduced in the order of service.

Prof. Francis Reinberger of the seminary faculty conducted the service. The Old Testament Lesson was read by the Rev. Dr. Dwight F. Putman, Harrisburg, president of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran Church in America, and the New Testament lesson by the Rev. Dr. J. Frank Fife, president of the Maryland Synod.

Dr. Heiges was presented for inauguration by the Rev. Gordon E. Folkemer, York, the secretary of the seminary's board of directors, and the formal inauguration act was conducted by the president of the seminary's board of directors, the Rev. Dr. Paul R. Closser, Middletown, Pa.

PRESIDENT'S PLEDGES

In his inaugural pledges Dr. Heiges promised "to serve as chairman of the faculty, to act as executive officer of the board in the management of the business of the institution, to represent it before the church and Christian associations and in its relations with other institutions of learning and to advance all its interests."

He promised also that his "teaching will be in conformity with the Holy Scriptures and in harmony with the confessions of the Lutheran Church."

The inaugural prayer was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Conrad Bergendoff, the representative of the Lutheran Church in America. The closing prayer was by the Rev. Dr. William C. Hankey, president of the Pittsburgh synod, and the benediction was by the Rev. Donald C. Anderson, president of the West Virginia Synod.

FIRST IN 11 YEARS

Two anthems were sung by the Seminary Choir, "Choose You This Day" and "Inveni David." Robert S. Clippinger of the seminary faculty was the organist. In addition to the processional and recessional hymns, the assembly sang Luther's hymn, "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God."

form the world. "Theological education seems always to be undergoing examination either on a broad base or in regard to a particular institution. Church bodies periodically make recommendations, non-denominational research teams publish their findings, individuals write articles on the subject, editors now and then devote an issue of their periodicals to theological education, and schools sometimes engage in self-studies. The deposit of all this activity is impressive in quantity and I have examined some of it. What I say, therefore, will doubtless reveal sources for which there is no documentation. I gladly acknowledge such indebtedness, although my primary source is personal experience in a theological education, which will not be defended because of its axiomatic character, namely, a school along with conversation with those engaged in theological education for a quarter of a century.

NOT SUBSERVIENT

"Underlying what I shall say school of theology which is created and maintained by the church has its 'raison d'être' in service to the church. This is not

CAR SMASHED; DRIVER IS CUT

State police this afternoon were continuing their investigation into how and why an accident occurred this morning at 5:50 o'clock one mile south of York Springs on the Hanover Rd.

According to the officers, an auto operated by Emerson S. McCoy, 24, Gardners R. 2, was "torn up like I never saw a car torn up before. It really made a convertible out of that sedan." McCoy was removed to the Warner Hospital in the York Springs ambulance. The physicians were found he escaped with a minor laceration of the top of his scalp, a contusion of the chest and a fracture of the right 10th rib.

John S. DeCheubell, 420 North St., McSherrystown, was reported by police as the driver of the other vehicle involved, a milk truck apparently enroute from a farm to a dairy.

Police said the truck was also badly damaged. According to the officers, the truck apparently "climbed up over the side and top of the car." After the impact the axle of the truck itself landed on the property of Edgar Leer while the car swung around and was partly on one side of the roadway.

York Springs fire police went to the scene and directed traffic around the wreckage until state police arrived. Police had the Wolf Garage, York Springs, tow the smashed vehicles to the garage.

turned groups. Girl Scout Troop 762 was second, $25, and third prize, $15, went to the Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

OTHER AWARDS

Awards for junior costumed groups were $25 first prize to Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 751; $15 second to Girl Scout Troop 782, $10 third to Donna's Twirlettes and $5 fourth to Girl Scout Troop 786.

The Y-Teens won the $50 first prize for senior floats, Ridgeway 4-H Club, $30 second and Junior Chamber of Commerce, $20 third. In the junior floats, Cub Pack 79 was first, winning $45; second, $25, Girl Scout Troop 750 and the third award to the second float entered by Ridgeway 4-H Club, $15.

Judging was made more difficult in marching groups when several entered without identifying themselves. Judging of the individual costumes became almost impossible when individuals seemed to "hide" their assigned numbers.

In some cases costume judges described the group and let it go at that with the hope that the person who won would recognize the description and claim the check.

Most beautiful costume awards went to Susan Baumgardner, Gettysburg R. 3, $10; Mary Catherine Deitch, 202 Carlisle St., $5, and Joyce Kane, Cashtown, $2.50.

Most comical, Carl Deardorff, Dillsburg R. 3, $10; John Perchulyn, S. Washington St., $5, and Jimmy Chambers, 127 Springs Ave., $2.50.

SOME CONFUSION

In the most original costume division the judges awarded the $10 first prize to the group representing a series of Burma Shave signs, but were unable to detect the number of the entry. Third prize went to Mrs. Charles Stern, 163 Chambersburg St., who represented a large pumpkin. Second prize was not immediately clear. The number detected by the judges was of a group that apparently entered the parade twice and won the first time around.

Judges in the small decorated vehicles had the worst time in attempting to identify numbers. First prize of $5 went to Jeffrey Fox. Second prize of $4 went to Sally Hildrod.

The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse, No. 201, entered by Roy Coldsmith, won the $3 first place in the horse and rider division. The second prize of $2 goes to the rider of the last horse in the parade, ridden by an "Arab" in yellow costume, whose number the judges could not discern, and third prize of $1 went to No. 202, the South Mountain Rangers.

BLOCK PARTY

Some of the prizes were awarded at the block party held at the Acme parking lot immediately after the parade. About 400 gathered there for dancing to the music of Phil Young.

Those who did not secure their checks there, may obtain them from Mrs. Robert Harpster at the Prosperity Cleaners, Railroad St., from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. today and Friday.

Those checks not claimed by Friday evening at 6 o'clock will be mailed in those cases where the committee has a name and address.

Because of the change in date for the parade, there were some substitutions in the list of judges previously announced. Ray Seltzer substituted for Clark Smith, for the Rotary Club; Mrs. William A. Lentz for Mrs. Guile Lefever from the Woman's Club; William Varian for Kenneth Dengler for the Lions Club. Dr. Elizabeth Gregg was unable to represent the Soroptimist Club and no substitution was made. LeRoy LeVan was an additional judge for the horse and pony divisions.

One of the committees not previously announced was the school poster committee. It consisted of John Maloney and Kenneth Dengler.

The Army ROTC provided the loud speaker system for the parade, and the escorts for the queen and her court. The Air Force ROTC assisted in the formation of the parade.

G. Henry Roth was the narrator.

Castro Charges Reds Sold Him Down The River

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fidel Castro in a bitter tirade at his meeting with U Thant, accused Soviet Premier Khrushchev of having sold him down the river, diplomatic informants said today.

The high-level sources said Thant, acting secretary-general of the United Nations, reported he had a most unpleasant trip to Cuba on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Castro, these sources said, volunteered his bitter remarks right at the outset of his first conference with the Burmese diplomat. He stated repeatedly that he was not consulted about Moscow's decision to dismantle the missile bases in Cuba.

Castro insisted that his five demands, including U.S. withdrawal from the Guantanamo naval base, must be carried out before he would even consider permitting U.N. inspection of their dismantling.

U.S. authorities restated today that Washington continues to ignore Castro's proposals completely.

ELECT FISSEL PRESIDENT OF HOLSTEIN UNIT

Paul R. Fissel, Biglerville R. 1, was elected president of the Adams County Holstein Association Wednesday evening at its annual banquet in Grace Lutheran parish hall, Two Taverns.

At the same time Fissel was praised for being the first Adams Countyman to win grand champion honors with his entry in the annual state "black and white" show at Harrisburg and was lauded for his work in connection with the Holstein Association's local activities.

Fissel succeeds Robert Gitt, Littlestown R. D., as president of the association.

Earl Noel, McSherrystown, was re-elected state director by the local group. Glenn Sterner, Gettysburg R. D., was renamed as vice president, and Adam Lobaugh, Aspers R. 1, was re-elected secretary-treasurer and also elected as news reporter for the organization.

"Fissel, Gitt and Lobaugh were all re-elected as directors of the association prior to the selection of officers for the coming year."

Thomas Kelly, field man for the State Holstein Association, was the principal speaker at the dinner attended by 85, outlining the work of the association.

Incoming President Fissel reported on state shows in which members took part during the last year and also reported as chairman of the youth committee of the unit. Among the youth activities were awarding of silver dollar prizes to 4-H members at round-up time and awarding of a trophy to the Future Farmers of America dairy judging contest. The 4-H dairy members were guests of the Holstein group at Wednesday's dinner meeting.

Car Gets Wedged On Covered Span

Mrs. Ruth Hoke, 50, Hanover, suffered a bruised right knee when her car became wedged crossways in the roadway of a covered bridge, near Sacred Heart Basilica, Edge Grove, Tuesday about 6:15 p.m.

Conewago Twp. police said Mrs. Hoke apparently lost control of the car as the vehicle ran up an approach ramp.

Police said about an hour was required by two tow trucks to remove the car from the bridge. Damage to the car was estimated by police at $550. Portable lighting equipment was furnished by members of Conewago Fire Company.

STOCKS LOWER

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market remained lower early this afternoon despite some improvement of opening losses. Activity was limited and price changes were mostly under a point among key issues.

The decline, K continued to the close, would be the first of the week. Wednesday the market closed mixed after posting substantial gains Monday and Tuesday.

Most brokers anticipated little major movement or any speedup in activity in the remaining sessions before Tuesday's elections.

DEATHS

John W. Wiles

John William Wiles, 68, Boonsboro R. 2, Md., died Tuesday afternoon at the Washington County Hospital, Hagerstown. Born in Fayette, a son of the late John David and Irene Cory Wiles, he had resided in Hagerstown most of his life. Among his survivors is a sister, Mrs. Alice Sullenberger, Gettysburg.

Funeral services were held at the Normant Funeral Home at 2 p.m. today with the Rev. Dr. G. I. Rider officiating. Burial was made at Rose Hill Cemetery.

George J. Deardorff

Funeral services were held this afternoon in Amboy, Ill., for George J. Deardorff, a native of Adams County, who died there Tuesday morning.

The deceased was a son of the late Anthony and Anna Mary Deardorff. He left Adams County about 60 years ago and never revisited here.

Surviving are his widow; one son, Leroy; a brother, Levi J., who is a resident of the Baker Nursing Home, Mechanicsburg R. D., and who will be 94 years of age on November 21; a number of grandchildren, nieces and nephews. Mrs. John D. Settle, Seven Stars, is a niece.

Reports October Readings Normal

Temperatures were very close to normal last month at the Arendtsville weather station, according to figures announced today by Dr. Frank H. Hewston, volunteer observer there. The range was from 26 degrees the morning of October 25 to 85 on October 11.

The average daily high reading was 66.9 degrees and the daily low readings averaged 42.2 degrees for a monthly average of 54.6 degrees. That average was within a tenth of a degree of normal for the month.

The rainfall totaled 4.2 inches which is 0.72 inches above normal and 2.9 inches above the total for October of last year. The 10-month accumulation of rain there is 31.1 inches which is 4.76 inches below normal, exactly the same shortage as was reported for the same period by the Gettysburg weather station. On the same date last year the 10-month accumulation at Arendtsville was only 1.99 inches above the total so far this year.

October was unusually sunny and received 61.2 per cent of the total "available." The sun shone more than 211 hours last month.

Pianist To Present Concert At College

Mrs. Phyllis Triolo will present a piano concert of contemporary music in Brua Hall Friday evening at 8:45 o'clock. She will perform the works of five 20th century American and European composers, Bartok, Barber, Schoenberg, Ravel and Griffis.

Mrs. Triolo began her concert career abroad with performances in Paris and London. During the past year she appeared as guest artist with the Curtis String Quartet which is in residence at Pennsylvania State University.

She has been the recipient of numerous scholarships and awards. Among these the Kate Neal Kinley Fellowship at the University of Illinois, a fellowship in the Juilliard Graduate School in New York and a Fulbright award which was granted her in 1950 for study at the Paris Conservatory. Mrs. Triolo was given a diploma with honor at the conservatory the following year. Her teachers in Paris were Jules Gentil and Alfred Corti. In the United States she has studied with Frank Mannheimer, Carl Friedberg and Stanley Fletcher.

A supper will be served by the auxiliary of the local SUV at 7 o'clock, with the meeting to follow at 8 o'clock. State Department SUV Commander Rev. Richard O. Partington, Lafayette Hill, and State Auxiliary President Mrs. Mary Kramer, Lemoyne, will be honored at the meeting along with other state and national honors.

A class of candidates will be obligated at the meeting and 50-year members of the SUV will be presented with pins. Dr. Joseph H. Riley, commander of the local SUV camp, announced.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

The Black Walnut Boy Scout District Committee will meet this evening at 8 o'clock at the West St. bank. Chairman Charles Ritter announced that the nominating committee headed by Dr. W. E. PITCAIRN AND IKE MAKE TAPE FOR GOP AIRING Raymond Pitcairn, prominent Montgomery County Republican leader, visited his friend, former President Eisenhower, at the latter's office here Tuesday.

The 78-year old organizer of the original "Citizens For Eisenhower" in 1951, the second chapter of which was organized here, taped an interview with his friend to be used on radio stations in the state this week on behalf of Scranton and Van Zandt for governor and U.S. senator respectively.

Later, at the Hotel Gettysburg where he had lunch, Pitcairn met a number of friends he made here a decade ago and discussed the happenings of the intervening years.

"I am still active in the Republican party and I want to help elect Scranton and Van Zandt," Pitcairn said. He said that he had been mailing GOP literature to county leaders throughout the state, most of which are authored by him, while some are reprints of some excerpts from Eisenhower's speeches made throughout the country in recent weeks.

"It is amazing how General Eisenhower carries on. He is a very vigorous man, in excellent physical condition, very much concerned with national and Pennsylvania affairs and anxious for a Republican victory," Pitcairn said.

"It was interesting and gratifying to see the millions of Americans, of all faiths and political complexion flock to his banner before and after he was nominated for the presidency. No wonder his election and re-election were so easily accomplished," he added.

Mr. Pitcairn spent more than an hour with General Eisenhower and then visited Mrs. Eisenhower at the farm.

tyburg at the same time on only one occasion, the day the W. Alton Jones Foundation presented two farms, which adjoin the Eisenhower farm, to the government. The ceremony was held in the Visitor Center.

"IN LOVE" WITH FARM

It is generally known that Mrs. Eisenhower selected Gettysburg as the place she would like to retire with her husband. Then the farm was purchased. Since then the Eisenhowers are "in love" with their home and have not discussed moving away or disposing of it.

The erroneous stories are believed to have come from careless speculation on the part of a couple of reporters following the Visitor Center ceremony when both Udall and Clark were here. The Eisenhowers were guests at the ceremony and attended a Hotel Gettysburg-catered luncheon at the Center after the ceremony.

There are 460 colleges and universities in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

James J. Brennan, public relations representative for the gas company, said the orchestra will make its third Gettysburg visit on the return trip from a Carnegie Hall concert in New York City.

Herbert Grossman, associate conductor, will present the program on Dec. 3. This is the first season with the Pittsburgh Symphony; he was formerly associate conductor of the Baltimore Symphony.

Selections tentatively scheduled for the Gettysburg concert include: Overture to "Colas Breugnot" by Kabalevsky; Handel's Concerto for Viola and Orchestra; excerpts from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream" and Beethoven's "Eroica" symphony.

Godfrey Layefsky, principal violinist, will be a featured soloist. He will play the Handel Concerto for Viola.

Tickets are on sale today in the hands of representatives of the following organizations: American Association of University Women, Annie Warner Hospital Auxiliary, Business and Professional Women's Club, Fairfield Lions, Friends of the Library, Gettysburg Exchange Club, Gettysburg Lions, Gettysburg Rotary, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Soroptimist Club, Gettysburg Woman's Club, Hunterstown Ruritan Club, Gettysburg Kiwanis, Littlestown Rotary, New Oxford Lions, Upper Adams Lions, Woman's League of Gettysburg College and Xi Alpha Chi chapter, Beta Sigma Phi.

Kenneth G. Reinhart Jr., ticket chairman, reported that club representatives opened their campaign with 2,500 tickets distributed Wednesday night. He called for weekly report meetings beginning Friday, Nov. 9. Club sales will close Nov. 30 and box office sales on Dec. 3, will be prorated among the participating clubs.

USSR IGNORES RED REACTION TO CUBAN MOVE

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet party today ignored Chinese Communist criticism of Premier Khrushchev's conciliatory strategy in the Cuban crisis.

Pravda, the party organ, in a report on Communist bloc support for Soviet moves in the crisis, gave a bare one-sentence summary of Peiping's reaction: Meetings of solidarity with the Cuban people.

Although words of praise for Khrushchev's decision to withdraw Soviet missiles from Cuba have come in from most Communist capitals, the Chinese have conspicuously refrained from sending their compliments.

SPLIT SEEN WIDER

The scarcely concealed anger over Khrushchev's tactics displayed in comments from Peiping is believed to have deepened the ideological split between Moscow and Peiping.

The Soviets appeared to reply to the Chinese in typically roundabout Communist fashion today. Pravda published a long editorial attacking a recently purged Mongolian Communist party Politburo member, who is reliably reported to have been a key figure in a pro-Chinese faction in Ulan Bator.

The Mongolian Communist, D. Tumur-Ochir, was accused of a series of crimes including nihilism, nationalism, anti-Marxism and attempting to disrupt Mongolian-Soviet friendship.

The prominent play given the reprint of the editorial from the Mongolian Communist party organ was interpreted here as a thinly veiled slap at the dissenting Chinese.

directors. He stressed the role of fire departments in CD and other emergencies with their 11 ambulances and two-way radio and the quick call system. He said Adams County is unique in having its quick call system manned around the clock every day in the week and paid tribute to the interest of the county commissioners and borough council in making this service possible.

He spoke highly of the CD fire police and listed registration, medical services, stocking and provisioning plans, transportation data and a radiological team headed by Harry Fasick, York Springs, as important links in the county CD organization.

A publicity committee was appointed to acquaint the public with the current training course and to promote interest in the community classes to be conducted later by the teachers currently being trained. The committee includes: Mrs. Theda M. Schwartz, an Upper Adams elementary teacher, chairman; John R. Korver, Bermudian Springs; Joan Dockey, Conewago Twp.; James S. Strock, Fairfield; Mrs. Dorothy Sprigg, Gettysburg; Mrs. Mary Sentz, Littlestown, and William W. Millar, New Oxford.

Receives $200 Scholarship

MISS MARTHA ZEPP

Miss Martha Jane Zepp, R. 1, has been awarded a Lydia Tarant-Extension Homemakers scholarship of $200 for the current academic year.

A junior majoring in home economics education at the Pennsylvania State University, Miss Zepp is one of five students enrolled in the college of home economics to receive one of the scholarships. They were presented at the 10th annual college awards dinner at the university Wednesday.

Miss Zepp is a member of the Campus 4-H Club, Penn State Grange, University Christian Association, and the Lutheran Student Association. During this past summer she assisted with the 4-H Club program in Cumberland County.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Zepp, and was graduated from Gettysburg High School. She has completed eight years of 4-H Club work, and is a member of Biglerville Grange.

Only two candidates are on the ballot for each of the three other offices: Earl S. Keim, Democratic, and Samuel J. Roberts, Republican, for judge of the Supreme Court; Earl D. Warner, Democratic, and George A. Goodling, Republican, for congressman; Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, Democratic, and Harry D. Ridinger, Republican, for assemblyman.

ONE REFERENDUM

In voting for the successor to Worley as assemblyman many will have to make a difficult choice. Ridinger, a two-time county register and recorder, a former deputy clerk of courts, a real estate broker and insurance agent and borough treasurer, and Attorney Hartman, prominent in a number of local civic, scouting and church organizations, are both popular and for many voters will be a rough "decision."

Only one referendum will be before the voters. Highland Twp. will decide whether it wishes to merge with the Gettysburg Area previously was before all of the school districts comprising the Gettysburg Joint School system, Gettysburg borough and Freedom Twp. voted to merge. The other districts, including Highland, chose not to merge. This year the question is again being asked of Highland residents, while the question is not asked Gettysburg and Freedom voters since state laws assume that since they had already voted in favor of a merger they would still be willing for others to join.

Castro Refuses

Rudolf Anderson Jr., 35, of Greenville, S.C.

Until now, the United States has listed Anderson as missing in action. A Defense Department spokesman said Thant's disclosure was the first word the U.S. government has had that Anderson was shot down over Cuba.

By all the signs, Anderson was piloting a high-flying U2 and may have been flown by a Soviet-supplied anti-aircraft rocket.

Reimposition of the blockade may serve to prod Castro. His foot-dragging on U.N. inspection has injected a note of uncertainty in proceedings which had seemed to be moving smoothly since Sunday when Soviet Premier Khrushchev agreed to dismantle his missile bases in Cuba and bring home his missiles.

CANCELS CONFERENCE

The turn of events in Havana may have prompted Kennedy to call off a news conference, originally set for today, until the situation is clarified. Cancellation of the session was announced late Wednesday.

The blockade and aerial surveillance of Cuba had been suspended at Thant's request.

While Salinger declined to discuss the scope of the renewed quarantine, reporters got the impression that the same zones and rules would apply as during the first six days of the blockade.

The orders under which blockaders operated before—and presumably will again until the action is finally ended—called in essence for halting, boarding and searching suspicious vessels.

The blockaders have authority to use force, as slight as possible but to sink a resisting ship if necessary.

Official guests in the academic procession were arranged in this order: Delegates of theological seminaries, colleges and universities, delegates of learned societies, representatives of church, synods and agencies, representatives of alumni classes, the student body, the board of directors of the seminary, the faculty, the officers in the service and in the place of honor at the end the president-elect and the president of the board of directors.

It was the first presidential inaugural on the seminary campus since 1951 when Dr. Baughman, who had been on the faculty since 1940, was inducted into the presidency.

GUILD STRIKES DAILY NEWS OF NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK (AP)—The Daily News—largest circulation newspaper in the country—was struck and shut down by the New York Guild Media Guild today.

Mediation efforts, including one by the mayor of New York, proved fruitless and the strike threatened to spread to the other six major dailies in this city of 8 million.

The Guild, finding itself in a deadlock over wages with all of the publishers, has vowed to strike each of the newspapers, one by one if no settlement is reached, and it picked the News as its first target. Contracts between the Guild, a unit of the AFL-CIO American Newspaper Guild, and all seven newspapers expired at midnight.

PUBLISHERS HOLD

The publishers vowed to stand together and to make their facilities available to the News so it could keep publishing.

Guild editorial and business employees walked off their jobs at the News at 12:01 a.m. and threw up picket lines.

Talks broke off at the other three morning newspapers shortly thereafter.

ASK $200 WAGE

Spokesmen for the city's afternoon papers, the Journal-American, Post and World-Telegram and The Sun, said they expected to publish as usual.

The Guild sought a general 10 per cent wage increase, and a weekly top minimum wage of $200. Present top minimums range from $162 to $168, with numerous employees receiving salaries above the minimums.

An offer of a $5 weekly increase spread over two years made by the Times, News, Journal-American and Mirror was turned down by the Guild.

4 FIRMS DENY PRICE FIXING

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Four of six big aluminum conductor cable manufacturers indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of price fixing have vigorously denied the accusations.

The six firms, suppliers of 90 per cent of the aluminum conductor cable sold in the United States, were charged with conspiring to fix prices in violation of the antitrust laws between June, 1958, and August, 1960.

Denials came from the Aluminum Co. of America, Pittsburgh; Anaconda Wire and Cable Co., New York; Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Sales Inc., Oakland, Calif.; and Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., New York.

Also indicted Wednesday were the General Cable Corp., Perth Amboy, N.J., and Reynolds Metals Co., Richmond, Va.

The indictment by an 18-member grand jury said that in 1959 sales of the cable wire by the defendant firms exceeded $70 million were sold to municipal, state and to public utilities throughout the United States.

Local Educator Gives His Impressions Of Study-Tour

"As for Christian educational work let no one underrate the great service rendered by Catholic as well as Protestant churches in the past and at present," Dr. Ralph D. Heim, professor of religious education and English Bible at the Lutheran Seminary, told a reporter for The Gettysburg Times today. Dr. Heim recently returned from a sabbatical leave of a 16-week study-lecture tour during which he crossed the Equator six times and visited 45 countries.

During the interview Dr. Heim was asked the following questions. His replies follow:

What were your particular interests beyond sightseeing? "Education of all types but especially Christian education on all levels. And let me say that the whole world has an intense concern in education. New nations may have not much else but they are getting great universities. America and other nations are helping them make these. As for Christian educational work let no one underrate the great service rendered by Catholic as well as Protestant churches in the past and at present."

VICTORIA FALLS

What scenes will you remember longest?

"That's a hard question. I could mention many things, for example the mission field in Liberia which I was able to cover in the mission's single-motored plane. However, I shall choose Victoria Falls as my favorite natural wonder. No small part of its grandeur is the fact that its natural condition has been only enhanced, not spoiled, by man's works."

What country did you like best?

"That's another hard question. A traveler likes, and dislikes, one place or another for a particular reason. As a general answer let's say Australia whose people and culture mingle some of the best features of British and American life. Except the desert, two-thirds of it, Australia is a delightful place."

What about the international situation?

"Tense. I foresee turmoil in our time."

"Every American needs to be greatminded and greathearted about this interdependent unity of mankind. We are one world."

Dr. Heim has lectured on Christian education on all the continents. In 1958 he had spoken to groups in Asia, specifically India and Japan. On this tour he spoke in Europe, Africa, Australia and South America.

MIND ADVENTURING
Goldsmith observed to Johnson about the Literary Club:
"There can now be nothing new among us; we have traveled over one another's minds."But here was Johnson's retort:
"Sir, you have not yet traveled over my mind, I promise you!"
If we are to believe all that has been written and discussed about this remarkable man's mind, it is quite safe to assert that Johnson was quite right. And if anyone had, through some sly plan, gained entrance to that mind, I doubt whether he would have more than traveled about its edges. Somehow the great scenery, more or less, remained veiled to the very last, Boswell notwithstanding.But hardly a Johnson in a century is born!
The world is filled though with interesting minds, about which we may adventure aptly, provided we are clever and alert.Gentle, unselfish minds are the easiest to approach and to enter.
Within such you are sure to discover great beauty and a warm welcome. But selfish minds are always forbidding and you need an extra overcoat on such an adventure.The child mind is filled with mystery and profound interest, yet its simplicity and openness invites and welcomes. Children's minds are always clean and fresh — like a meadow in springtime.
To adventure into the mind of a boy, buried in his college studies, is to get a real thrill. There is great excitement there. Confusion a little, yes, but healthy confusion.But to drink in the finest draught of all, enter that mind that has been enriched with travel, books, and people — a mind such as Ulysses must have had.
A mind that has "sailed the seas" and become a part of all that it has met!Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Hiding Troubles"Protected, 1962, by The George Matthew Adams Service

Just Folks

EVEN SOCRATES

BLUNDERED

Since there's much to be learned that is not taught in school,
The wisest of men in some things is a fool.
The mind most sagacious makes plans that miscarry
And the shrewdest of men may the wrong woman marry.There are men who are gifted with foresight to see What the uttermost end of their bargains will be;
Yet in choosing a wife, though the contract's a long one,
It frequently happens they pick out the wrong one.Take Socrates, wisest of men in his day,
Whose mind for philosophy opened the way.
He married Xanthippe—and see now what followed:
She nagged the poor man till the hemlock he swallowed.

PROBATION FOR
2-YEAR PERIODBy DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports WriterNEW YORK (AP)—The University of Dayton Flyers, perennially among the top basketball squads in the land, are out of tournament competition for the next two years because of excessive transportation arrangements made for a freshman hotshot in 1960.The Flyers, 1962 National Invatation Tournament Champions, were grounded Wednesday when the National Collegiate Athletic Association Council, winding up a three-day fall meeting here, ordered a two-year probationary period for the university.The action, the result of illegal transportation provided on four instances to Roger Brown of New York two years ago when he was a freshman, knocks Dayton out of the post-season NCAA championships as well as the NIT and all other holiday tournaments except one in 1963 to which the Flyers

THE EXCEPTION

The exception will be the 1963
ECAC Holiday Festival a year from December in New York's Madison Square Garden. Prior to the probationary action, Dayton had accepted an advance invitation for the festival and had signed a formal contract to compete. Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said the association would respect contracts already in force in keeping with the custom in such probationary cases.In Dayton, the Rev. Raymond
A. Roesch, university president, said, "We accept the penalty, imposed by the NCAA committee on infractions and will continue to make every effort to abide by all the laws and bylaws of the NCAA."Dayton's violations included transporting Brown from his home in Brooklyn to enroll at the university and during the 1960-61 se-son, when the 6-foot-5 former schoolboy ace was on the freshman team, paying his round trip transportation to New York three times for personal matters.

"HARDSHIP CASE"

Father Roesch said Brown's trips were for appearances in traffic court in New York following an automobile accident in which he was involved and added: "The athletic department was motivated by what it judged to be a hardship case and felt that it was justified."Brown still is in Dayton, playing for an AAU team. He dropped out of the university after his involvement in last year's college basketball scandals. According to New York District Attorney Frank
Hogan, Brown admitted accepting $250 to act as a contact man for confessed gambler Joseph Hacken, now awaiting sentencing on several counts of bribery and conspiracy.HORNING MAY

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—
Coach Rip Engle of Penn State shudders when someone mentions Dick Shiner of Maryland.
Good quarterbacks have been giving the Nittany Lions fits this year and Shiner, of Lebanon, Pa., is one of the best-rated currently as the nation's number one college football passer.Engle also recalls last year when Shiner tossed three touchdown passes in the first 30 minutes to lead Maryland to a 21-17 upset over the Lions.Maryland and Penn State clash again Saturday at University Park.

REMEMBER LAST WEEK

Shiner has connected on 87 of 131 aerials so far for 1,034 yards and five touchdowns. But even more significant is the trouble
State has had with quarterbacks.
Take the Army game, for instance, when Cammy Lewis tossed a fourth-down touchdown pass late in the fourth quarter to give the Cadets a 9-6 triumph over the Lions—Penn State's only loss.Last weekend, it was an unheralded sophomore named Craig Morton who gave the Lions a scare, completing 20 of 28 tosses for 274 yards and three TDs as the California Golden Bears came within two points of an upset. The Lions won that one 23-21.SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A torn

Warriors At Newport Saturday; Bolts Wind Up Against Hanover; Delone At Home Sunday

This weekend marks the end of the 1962 football campaign for Littlestown High School while other county schools reach the home stretch bent on victories to assure successful campaigns.

Littlestown (4-4) takes on strong Hanover (7-1) in a nonleague game on Memorial Field, Littlestown, Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Gettysburg High, 4-3 in the Blue Mountain League and 4-4 overall, opposes Newport, 1-5 in the league and 1-6 overall, in a league game Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Newport.

Biglerville, 3-3 in the Blue Mountain and 4-3 for the entire season, invades Dillsburg to meet Northern, 2-5 in the league and 3-5 for the season, Saturday at 2.

Bermudian Springs, 1-3-2, takes over the Biglerville High School field Saturday evening when it is host to South Huntingdon of Orbisonia for an 8 o'clock engagement.

Winding up the long weekend of activity will be Delone Catholic's (3-5) clash with St. John's College (4-1-1) of Washington, D. C., Sunday afternoon at 2 at McSherrytown.

GETTYSBURG AT NEWPORT

The Warriors will take nothing for granted in their engagement with the Buffaloes at Newport as they strive for a strong finish in the Blue Mountain circuit.

There may be some revamping in the Warrior lineup, according to Coach Don Young. Jim Newman, back, will definitely be out of action for the second straight week as a disciplinary measure. Bob Beeler, end, will probably see only limited action due to the knee injury suffered last week.

Johnny Longenecker, quarterback, is nursing a hip injury but it is believed he will be ready for the Warrior quarterback would be a terrific blow. He has been the big reason the Warriors have been successful to date due to his brilliant passing and defensive work. Time and again he has rolled away to prevent losses when trapped on attempted aerials and had his receivers been a little more sure-fingered his already fine completion record would be even better.

Newport's lone victory this season under its new coach, Bill Maddox, was a 12-6 decision over winless Boiling Springs. Decisions have been dropped to Juniata Joint, Northern, Camp Hill, Big Spring, Biglerville and Shippensburg.

HANOVER AT LITTLESTOWN

Littlestown faces probably its strongest foe when it rings down the curtain on its season Friday evening at Littlestown against once-beaten Hanover.

The Nighthawks, with 10 lettermen, have lost only to Chambersburg 19-13 while soaring to wins over Delone, Scotland, York Central, Spring Grove, Susquehanna, Kennard-Dale and West York. In Parry Spahr, 180, and Bill Hoffacker, 150, the Hawks have a pair of fine backs whom Coach Bill Heyser of the Bolts says his team must stop in order to win.

The Thunderbolts are smarting after their upset at the hands of Kennard-Dale and are determined to rebound. This week much emphasis has been put on passing.

An even dozen Littlestown players, all seniors, will be performing for the last time Friday. They include Ted Bortner, Dick Motter, Bill Woodward, Dwight Strig, Buddy Ecker, backs; Dale Bair, Phil Close, Jeff Breighner, Frank Basehor, Doug Gitt, Fred Snyder and Tom Appier, linemen.

BIGLERVILLE AT NORTHERN

Like Gettysburg, Biglerville's Cannons need a victory this week when they meet the troublesome Poplar Bears at Dillsburg Saturday afternoon, to keep their drive going for a first division berth in the Blue Mountain loop.

Northern has shown fine form from time to time and is certain to give the Cannons a busy afternoon. Three of their losses came from top teams in the Blue Mountain League on late rallies by the Bears' opponents.

John Sileo, Fran Myers and Jim Young, all experienced backs, have carried the brunt of the offense for Northern to date.

Coach Jack Emanuel of Biglerville report that Fred Hartman, back, will definitely miss the game due to a leg injury but that Rodney Guise, end, is scheduled to see more duty after resuming play following an injury. Jerry Lady, reserve center, has a leg injury which may keep him on the bench.

ST. JOHN'S AT DELONE

If anyone has a halfback or two to spare, Coach Bucky Kempton of the Delone Squires would be glad to have him for the Sunday afternoon scrap with St. John's College, of Washington, D. C., at McSherrytown.

A rash of injuries to backfield men last week has necessitated Kempton making wholesale changes in an effort to fill the gaps.

Among those injured are: Roger Sanders, quarterback, knee; "Butch" Emig, back, sprained ankle; Raymond Staub, back, broken nose; Dave Knox, back, shoulder separation; Wayne Klunk, quarterback, knee.

Henry Reese, sophomore, has been delegated to replace Sanders at quarterback. Kempton has also been using Bobby Conrad, end, this week at quarterback to prepare him if he is needed in that spot.

St. John's, which observes scholastic requirements despite its collegiate listing, is fifth ranked in the metropolitan area of Washington. It has won three championships in the last six years.

At present St. John's is riding the crest of a four-game winning streak. The Washingtonians lost their opener to Baltimore City College 27-14 and then engaged in a 14-14 tie with Mt. St. Joseph's of Baltimore. During the past four weeks they have won from South Hills Catholic, Pittsburgh, 19-0, DeMatha 27-0, Columbian Prep 19-6, and Archbishop Carroll 26-0.

Jay Calabrese, a 5-11, 190-pound back, has been outstanding for St. John's. Other starters in the back ends Ned Carr, 6-1, 165 and Jim Fraus, 5-8, 160; tackles, Harry Jenkins, 6-1, 195, and Brian McHugh, 6-0, 195; guards, Bob Yoh, 6-0, 180, and Chris Dill, 6-1, 190, and center, John Shea, 5-10, 200.

Linemen who are scheduled to open against the Squires are: ends Ned Carr, 6-1, 165; tackles, Harry Jenkins, 6-1, 195, and Brian McHugh, 6-0, 195; guards, Bob Yoh, 6-0, 180, and Chris Dill, 6-1, 190, and center, John Shea, 5-10, 200.

BERMUDIAN PLAYS AT BIGLERVILLE

Bermudian Springs will use the Biglerville High School field as a home field for the next two Saturday evenings, meeting South Huntingdon of Orbisonia this Saturday at 8. On the following Saturday the Eagles will host Kennard-Dale.

South Huntingdon and Bermudian have met one or non opponent this season. The Rockets lost to Scotland 32-6 while Bermudian bowed to the Cadets 24-7.

Coach Dean Beck expects to have his full manpower ready for the game with all Eagle players reported in good condition.

NAVY SINKS 2 GETTYSBURG SOCCER TEAMS

Navy's undefeated soccer team routed the Gettysburg College Bullets 9-1 Wednesday afternoon at Annapolis as its ace scorer, Karl Kaeser, added four goals to give him a total of 16 for the season.

Bill Schinnerer tallied Gettysburg's lone goal in the third period.

The Bullets, now 4-4, will meet St. Joseph's of Philadelphia here Saturday at noon.

The Gettysburg Freshmen booters lost their fourth contest in as many starts by bowing to the Navy Plebes 9-3. The Plebes are unbeaten with five straight victories. On Saturday the Freshmen will meet Mercersburg Academy here in their final game.

BALTIMORE IS EYEING N.B.A.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baltimore made its point. Detroit didn't make enough.

Baltimore bidding for a 1963 National Basketball Association franchise turned out a respectable 4,912 for the first of seven NBA shows at the Maryland city this year and saw the well-balanced Syracuse Nats trim St. Louis 126-108.

In Detroit the Pistons remained the NBA's only winless team, losing their sixth consecutive game as the Boston Celtics breezed to a 115-100 decision.

The Nats and Celtics are tied for first place in the Eastern Division with 4-1 records. The Hawks' loss dropped them out of first place in the West. The San Francisco took over with a 4-1 mark to St. Louis 5-2.

In the other game Wednesday night, the Los Angeles Lakers playing at home, ran off from the New York Knickerbockers, 115-95.

Baltimore, which hasn't had an NBA team since 1954, saw a tight game until midway of the third period when the Nats' Hal Greer and John Kerr led a spurt that turned a 72-71 edge into a 94-81 lead. Greer scored eight points and Kerr five during the spree. Kerr wound up with 26 points, and Greer with 19, but St. Louis' Bob Pettit took scoring honors with 29.

HOME FLOOR IS NO ADVANTAGE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Now, what's all this shouting about the home ice advantage?

Time was like last season, when such National Hockey League teams as Montreal and Toronto simply did not lose at home. It just wasn't being done. And any team was supposed to have a considerable advantage when playing at home.

This season however, it hasn't quite worked out that way. Of the 25 NHL games played so far, the home team has won only 10 times. Six have ended in ties.

And the team with the most trouble has been Toronto—which didn't lose a big handful of home games all last season. This year the Stanley Cup champion Leafs have won only once in four home starts.

They suffered their second straight home loss 4-3 to Montreal in the only league game scheduled Wednesday night. The victory pulled the Canadiens to within one point of second place Chicago and within two of leading Detroit.

BRYANT CITES AUBURN UPSET BY ALABAMA

By PAUL (BEAR) BRYANT

Alabama Football Coach

Written for

The Associated Press

The Alabama-Auburn football game of 1959 was the making of our national championship team of 1961.

This was not necessarily one of the better games we have played but it taught our sophomores the pace they had to set if they wanted to excel.

They learned in this game that if you will sacrifice enough, show enough pride and play with enough determination you can beat anybody. Nobody can stop you.

Auburn had beaten Alabama five straight years. The fifth came in 1958, my first year at Alabama. The score was 14-8.

FELT DOOMED

It looked like we were doomed to licking No. 6 when we took a bunch of kids to Birmingham's Legion Field in 1959 to play an Auburn team that was loaded with experienced hands. Alabama was the underdog all the way. We had only 26 or 27 players who were physically fit and most of them were sophomores.

At the start, we played on even terms for a few minutes. Then Tommy Brooker, our sophomore end, booted a 27-yard field goal on the first try of his life to get Alabama a 3-0 lead.

Then a wonderful thing happened. All those young sophomores of ours started digging in and playing a whole of a defensive game. Auburn attacked furiously but we held our own and held that 3-0 lead until the third quarter.

STRETCH LEAD

It was then we stretched the lead out to 10-0. We sent Martin Dyess, our little 145-pound speedster, out as a left flanker. Bobby Skelon, our senior quarterback, tipped a flat pass out to him. Dyess raced 39 yards over, through and around Auburn for a touchdown. Brooker kicked the conversion.

The final score was 10-0. On that day the Crimson Tide allowed Auburn only 114 yards rushing and 17 passing while intercepting three Auburn passes. Alabama's offense produced 260 yards rushing and 103 passing.

With an underdog team that was out-weighted 20 pounds per man in the line, we broke that string of five straight Auburn victories. Our kids have not lost to Auburn since.

SET N.W. TYPE

This is why I remember this game. It stands out in my memory because it started our championship type greatness.

It showed what determination can do. In this game, our sophomores learned that no matter what the odds, if you sacrifice enough, show enough pride and play hard enough, you can beat anybody.

This was the game in which our kids learned that. This was the game that made our national championship team of 1961.

LENOIR-RHYNE IS UNBEATEN

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lenoir-Rhyne and Texas A&I, a couple of unbeaten teams, provided a new look today to The Associated Press small college football ratings as Florida A&M held onto first place.

Lenoir-Rhyne (7-0) maintained its perfect record by trouncing Frederick 40-0 while unbeaten but once-tied Texas A&I (6-0-1) beat Stephen F. Austin 31-0.

As a result the all-conquering eleven from North Carolina moved into the first 10 with a No. 6 position and the Texans were installed in the No. 8 slot. They replaced Pittsburg, Kan. (5-2-0) and Lamar Tech (6-1-0).

The all-winning Rattlers of Florida A&M (5-0-0) whipped Tennessee State 20-0 and lead the pack with four first-place votes from the national panel of eight sports writers and 67 points.

Northern Illinois (6-1-0) was handed its first loss by Central Michigan 35-27, and skidded from second to seventh. Southeastern Louisiana (5-0-0) advanced from fifth to second.

Mississippi (6-1-0) moved up from fourth to third, and Wittenberg (7-0-0) jumped from seventh to fourth. Central Oklahoma State (7-0-0) climbed from sixth to fifth.

Southern Illinois (4-2-0) in ninth and Fresno State (4-2-0), rounded out the top ten.

Sleichter Wins PGA Tournament

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—

Dick Sleichter, 44-year-old Severna Park (Md.) golf professional and former pro at the Gettysburg CC, coasted to a two-stroke victory in the Middle Atlantic PGA tournament Wednesday as the Cascades course refused to succumb to any sub par shooting.

Sleichter, Tuesday's leader with a three-under-par 68, faded to a closing 73 and a two-day 36-hole total of 141, one under par.

His nearest competition came from Paul Haviland, of Bel Air, Md., who finished with a 36-hole score of one over par, 143.

Sleichter, in addition to winning the 1962 National PBA tournament, money of $500, qualified for the 1962 National PBA tournament.

PROVIDENCE WINS SHUTOUT

Who's better, the agile little goalie or the beefy big goalie. That's a discussion that continues without end in hockey circles. Providence netminder Gil Mayer casts his vote for the little fellows.

Playing against his former Cleveland mates Wednesday night the 5-foot-6, 135-pound Mayer turned in a brilliant performance, kicking out 33 shots—almost twice as many as his opposite number—for a 2-0 American Hockey League shutout of the Barons.

The defeat was the seventh in a row for Cleveland.

In the only other game played Wednesday night, Hershey rallied for two last period goals and a 4-2 triumph over Rochester.

While Mayer was turning aside 33 shots, Barons' goalie Les Binkley made only 18 saves—but two first period goals did the damage. Fred Mazur, another ex-Baron, gave Mayer the only goal he needed in the opening period and Larry Leach connected later for insurance.

EX-BOLT STAR BOOMED FOR ALL-AMERICA

Ronnie Crouse, former Littlestown High School football star, and a three-year varsity performer at Catawba College, Salisbury, N.C., is among the top candidates this season for Little All-America honors.

This week Crouse took over the punting leadership among the nation's small colleges.

Crouse, who has been among the leaders for each of his three years, last Saturday punting his average to 45.2 yards per game. Crouse, however, far outdistanced the top 10 in attempts, according to NAIA statistics, with 28 punts for a total of 1,265 yards.

In addition this year, Crouse has become more and more an offensive back. He had a 30.6 percentage rushing average on 214 yards and 58 carries, a record of 12 passes caught for 129 yards, two passes completed for 30 yards for a total offense figure of 244 yards.

Another Littlestown lad is also a stalwart on the Catawba team. He is Gene Appier, a Sophomore, who is again playing tackle both ways, offense and defense, and was described as doing "a grand job."

3 VETERANS ARE FIRED BY BUDDY PARKER

By LOU PRATO

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Angered by two successive crushing defeats handed his Pittsburgh Steelers, Coach Buddy Parker has fired three veterans in an attempt to get his team back into the thick of the National Football League title race.

Parker, in a sudden move Wednesday, dismissed defensive halfback Johnny Sample, offensive end Harlon Hill and defensive tackle-end John Kapele. Sample and Hill were both starters.

"We just got rid of some guys that we couldn't use this year or any other year," Parker explained. "Sample hasn't been worth a darn all season and he's been a hard boy to handle. Hill hasn't done anything, either. And it took us three years to find out that Kapele isn't much of a prospect."

DEFENSE BLAMED

"Maybe this will put some fire in the rest of the team," the Texan added. "Particularly the defense which hasn't been exactly a ball of fire in the last two games."

Parker has blamed the defense for the Steelers' defeats to Dallas, 42-27, and Cleveland, 41-14, on the past two Sundays. Before those losses Pittsburgh had been a serious contender for the eastern division crown. Now, the Steelers are mired in fifth place with a 3-4 record.

"It may look tough for us," Parker acknowledged, "but we're not out of the race yet—not the way this division has been going. It all depends on whether we can regroup or not."

TOO MANY COMPLETIONS

Oddly, Sample, a five-year veteran didn't play in the setback to Cleveland. He suffered a back injury against Dallas and was kept out of the Browns game. But it was no secret that Parker had been disappointed in Sample's performance this season.

The former Maryland State star came to the Steelers last year in a trade with the Baltimore Colts where he had been a defensive standout. He continued his sensational play with the Steelers, leading the team in pass interceptions with eight.

N.Y. Times Editorial Raps Administration's Handling Of Serious Crisis In Cuba

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times Wednesday editorially criticized the Kennedy administration's control over release of information concerning the government's action in the Cuban crisis.

Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, said Tuesday in Washington that the government employed such control as a weapon in the drive to force the dismantling of Soviet missile bases in Cuba.

"News flowing from actions taken by the government is part of the weaponry," he said. "In the kind of world we live in, the generation of news by actions taken by the government becomes one weapon in a strained situation."

"ONE-VOICE" STRATEGY

Sylvester said the timing of announcements, the rank of the government official making the announcement and other factors figured in the strategy which he summed up as "speaking in one voice to your adversary."

"The results, in my opinion, justify the methods we used," he said.

In its editorial, the Times commented in part:

"The old problem of whether or not the ends justify the means cropped up in a form relatively new to the United States yesterday."

DENIES RIGHT TO KNOW

"There is no doubt that 'management' or 'control' of the news is censorship described by a sweeter term. There is no doubt that it restricts the people's right to know."

"There is no doubt that public positions upon great national issues cannot be intelligently formed unless the facts are available. There is no doubt that a democratic government cannot work if news of and about that government is long suppressed or managed or manipulated or controlled."

"There is also no doubt that in time of crisis a sense of responsibility and restraint on the part of all public information media is imperative. The withholding by voluntary restrictions or, in time of war by censorship, of certain types of military and security information is imperative."

CONTROL DANGEROUS

"But to attempt to manage the news so that a free press should speak (in Sylvester's words) in 'one voice to your adversary' could be far more dangerous to the cause of freedom than the free play of dissent, than the fullest possible publication of the facts."

In Washington, the Evening Star referred editorially to Sylvester's reference to generation of news and his comment that the results justify the methods.

"Weigh these words. Their meaning is truly sinister. In an administration that is becoming quite notable in its efforts toward achieving managed control of the news, Mr. Sylvester may have overlooked one likely result of the methods we used. This result is that Mr. Sylvester and his superiors from this time on, are suspects," the Star said.

"They have, in our opinion, recklessly and thoughtlessly forfeited a confidence that in this country has been the rule, rather than the exception. What they say from now on, as arbitrarily established sources of public information, may be the truth. But that truth will be accepted with a grain of salt."

"The kind of world we live in seems now to be a world in which truth given the American people of what has happened is that part of the truth selected by officialdom to piece together a desirable image. That image may be a distortion, the inevitable result of an attempt to use the press and its news as instruments of national policy."

POLITICS Republican

By RICHARD L. GRAVES
PINE GROVE, Pa. (AP)—Rep. William W. Scranton promised today to seek a boost in the state's dollar-an-hour minimum wage in line with improvement in the economy, if he is elected governor.

The Republican candidate also forecast that his administration could trim unemployment in the state to about 4½ per cent of the work force through implementation of his recommendations for industrial development and other programs, provided the national economy didn't falter.

The state's unemployment level in September was 6.9 per cent of the work force, the lowest since 1957.

"I would be perfectly willing to work for a boost in it (minimum wage) when the economy is back up," Scranton told newsmen.

He had been asked specifically if he favored raising the state's minimum wage to the $1.25 an hour level to become effective soon under federal law.

The state's minimum wage law, enacted by the 1961 legislature, covers jobs not in interstate commerce. They are subject to the federal law. Agricultural workers are exempted from the laws.

Arabs Export Only Approved Artwork

CAIRO (AP)—The United Arab Republic has decided that Egyptian artists showing their work abroad must have the official approval of the Ministry of Culture.

The government decision was published in the newspaper Al Ahram.

The measure aims, the paper said, "at safeguarding the artistic reputation of the U. A. R. abroad."

The measure directs that any artist wishing to leave the country must obtain permission from the Ministry of Culture and the work he wishes to display must also be favorably reviewed by the government.

The only exception will be for artists going outside the country for medical treatment.

American frontier audiences were treated to a surprising amount of Shakespeare. Actors often were regarded as suspect, so they included the Bard to give themselves as air of respectability.

SHELTERS FOR THIRD OF FOLK IN THIS STATE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Recent federal surveys show that only one-fourth to one-third of Pennsylvania's population could count on adequate public shelter in the event of a nuclear attack.

Gov. Lawrence and state Civil Defense Director Richard Gerstell gave a report on the surveys Wednesday at the governor's weekly news conference.

Both pointed out that some 27,500 potential shelter sites have been found in the Commonwealth, but only 7,500 meet federal standards and are conveniently located.

"On a preliminary basis, the capacity of these 7,500 buildings would be in excess of three million people," Gerstell estimated. Pennsylvania's population is 11.3 million.

Gerstell and Lawrence also noted that there are hundreds of other potential fallout shelters in the state in the form of mines, tunnels, caves and underground facilities.

"But," said Lawrence, "many of these facilities—such as the large limestone mines in Butler County—are too far distant from population centers to be fully utilized."

PITTSBURGH EXCEPTION

Another problem mentioned by Gerstell was the lack of public fallout facilities in the state's major cities—with the exception of Pittsburgh.

"Pittsburgh is rather unique," the state Civil Defense official explained. "Within the city limits, there are some 864 buildings that have met the minimum federal requirements. Their total capacity is approximately seven hundred thousand people. In other words, for the city of Pittsburgh there is more shelter space in existing buildings and facilities than there are residents."

Other cities aren't so fortunate, he added.

Gerstell said the state is hoping now that the federal government's proposed shelter incentive

WORD LEAKS ON WEDDING BELLS ON TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Word has leaked from the Hollywood studios that, after only two months of program will be passed. Under this program, he explained, the federal government would provide subsidies for the construction of public shelter space in schools, hospitals and public welfare institutions.

Meanwhile, Gov. Lawrence advised newsmen he would be in Washington, D. C., Friday for a Civil Defense meeting with governors from West Virginia, Delaware, Virginia, Maryland, Kentucky and Ohio.

And the State Council of Civil Defense is scheduled to meet Nov. 8 to adopt general policies relating to the use of state-owned buildings and facilities as public shelters.

widowhood. Luke McCoy is going to have a new steady girl, a widow with a 6-year-old son.

Ultimately there may be wedding bells ringing out on "The Real McCoys," but this is highly tentative because television script writers long ago discovered how very flexible is a television widow.

A spot check of network widowers reveals the presence of 10, all playing starring roles. By contrast, there are only three widows, one of them grass. This is in marked contrast to real life in the U.S.A., where widows outnumber widowers four to one.

WIFE RESIGNED

There are two widowers in "The Real McCoys" (Luke lost his wife when Kathy Nolan, who played the part, resigned in a huff from the cast at the end of last season). There are also "The Rifleman," "The Andy Griffith Show," "Jed Clampett in 'Beverly Hillbillies,'" Judge Garth in "The Virginian," Dr. Bassett in "The 11th Hour," Steve and Bub in "My Three Sons," and Lawrence Preston in "The Defenders."

Not all of them are permitted romantic interludes, particularly the older gentlemen. But this year there seems to be a trend to provide romantic attachments.

The magic ingredient seems to be missing from this season's "Garry Moore Show," which lacks its old informal charm and easy humor. At the outset, it seemed that maybe we missed Carol Burnett, but she was back and stage center this week. But even her best comic efforts failed to lift the show. They gave her and Durward Kirby an impossible assignment in an unfunny sketch about a kooky woman with a phobia about using her hands. Better it should have been whipped into a psychiatric plot for NBC's "Eleventh Hour." Even the studio audience laughter sounded strained.

Doctors Found Lax In Personal Health

CHICAGO (AP)—A pathologist studying medical tests given to 1,771 doctors attending the American Medical Association's convention has found that the family physician's health is being neglected.

Dr. Thomas M. Perry, pathologist of Washington D. C., reported to the AMA that two-thirds of the doctors have had significant abnormalities.

The doctors were given 17 separate tests during the meeting last June. They revealed that the doctors had a possible 2,212 instances of sickness, ranging from heart ailment to gout.

Doctors whose tests showed ill health symptoms were sent letters suggesting that more tests be repeated by the doctor's own pathologist.

U. S. passport office and Immigration and Naturalization Service estimate 706,000 Americans departed for Europe during the first half of 1962, a 9 per cent increase over the same period of 1961.

NOMINATIONS
ARE KEPT OPEN

The nomination of officers remained open during the monthly meeting of Alpha Fire Company No. 1 held on Tuesday evening at the engine house. The session was held one week early due to Election Day.

The slate of officers for the December election is as follows: President, Clyde E. Harner; vice president, Clair J. Redding; secretary, Dennis W. Wallick; treasurer, Paul E. Altoff; fire chief, Richard Stuller; first assistant, James P. Hahn; second assistant, Jack E. Rebert; truck foreman, Joseph H. Redding; chief nozzle man, James R. Collins; hose foreman, Raymond Masenheimer; trustee, Glenn E. Ohler; trustee of relief fund, James U. Bowers; and chaplain, Harry W. Badders. The December meeting has been postponed one week from December 4 to December 11, due to deer hunting season and the polls will be open for election from 6:30 to 8:15 p.m. on that night. The election board will consist of Robert C. Kootz, Marvin Miller and Fred A. Miller.

NO FIRE CALLS

The meeting on Tuesday was conducted by President Clyde Harner and opened with the singing of "America" and group prayer. The secretary, Dennis Wallick, gave his report. It was noted that the ADT system from the Windsor Shoe Company, Inc., is now in full operation and a series of three signals will be sounded in case of fire there. It was voted to grant life membership to those who have been members of the company for 40 years or more.

Fire Chief Richard Stuller reported no fire calls during the month. Roger Gouker was nominated for membership. David Reaver was appointed as a fire policeman to fill the fire police quota. Paul Altoff, treasurer, gave a report on the canteen fund. Bills were ordered paid amounting to $103.33. Receipts of the evening were $105.68.

The Ladies' Auxiliary presented a request that the firemen have a rider placed on their company's insurance to cover Auxiliary members. It was decided to have the relief fund trustees meet with a committee from the Auxiliary for further information, before a decision is made.

Following the business, refreshments were served by Charles C. Croft, Leroy Kline and Ronald Brown. This committee will also serve for the December 11 meeting.

WITTENBERG 11
RISKS STREAK
HERE SATURDAY

SPRINGFIELD, O., — Risking a nine-game victory streak, Wittenberg University's nationally-ranked football team will clash with Gettysburg College Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in Gettysburg.

The Tigers will have more than a winning streak at stake, however. This will be one of the few opportunities Wittenberg will have to compete against an eastern opponent.

Wittenberg's performance before writers and coaches from another area of the country could mean the difference between retaining its place among the top ten small college teams in the nation or being voted out.

The Tigers were in seventh place according to the last Associated Press small college poll and also were among the top teams in the United Press International listing.

DEFENDING CHAMPS

After suffering its lone loss of the 1961 campaign to nationally-ranked Lenoir-Rhyne, Wittenberg closed out the season with three straight triumphs. The defending Ohio Conference champions continued the string by notching six consecutive victories this year.

This will mark the first non-conference battle for the Tigers since the season opened when Wittenberg shut out DePauw University of the Indiana Collegiate Conference, 18-0.

Wittenberg went on to dump Ohio Conference foes Otterbein, Heidelberg, Marietta, Capital, and Ohio Wesleyan for second place in the current league standings. Akron, which has played one more league game than the Tigers, is in first place.

Navy Near Success
In Satellite Plan

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Vice Admiral W. F. Raborn Jr., deputy chief of naval operations for development, says the Navy has a satellite navigation system that is almost operational.

Raborn told the National Defense Transportation Association convention Wednesday night that five experimental navigational satellites have been orbited. The operational prototype will be put up in the near future, he said.

The photo above shows some of the 60 Adams County school teachers who began a five-session course Wednesday evening at Biglerville to prepare them to give instruction in an adult education Civil Defense program in the county this winter. At the right, facing the teachers, is Mrs. Eleanor Bennett, instructor from the state Department of Public Instruction.

LIST STUDENT
DELONE HIGH

Student council officers and class representatives at Delone Catholic High School this year have been announced as follows: President, Stephen Groft, who was elected prior to the 1961 term closing; Thomas Adams, vice president; Michael Smith, secretary; Joseph Overbaugh, treasurer, and Patricia Sherdel, fourth Senior class representative. Juniors, James Redding, Ronald Weaver, Thomas Breighner, Eugene Funk and Philip Klunk. Sophomores, Victoria Conrad, Michael Hemler, William Lynch, Carl Noel, Henry Reese, Odella Thomassey and Carla Smith. Freshmen, Sandra Bazonis, George Emig, Robert Lemmon, Audrey Noel, John Redding and Brent Staub. Each class representative has received an official pin. Rev. Richard Hartnett, executive assistant to the principal of the school, is student council advisor.

CLASS OFFICERS

Class elections were also held and officers chosen as follows: Seniors, president, Joseph Overbaugh; vice president, Hugh Conrad; secretary, Thomas Adams; treasurer, John Martin. Juniors, president, James Redding; vice president, Ronald Weaver; secretary, Peter Smith, and treasurer, Philip Klunk. Sophomores, president, David Knox; vice president, William Lynch; secretary, J. Michael Hemler, and treasurer, Earl Noel. Freshmen, president, Cecilia Grim; vice president, David Noel; secretary, Carol Cole, and treasurer, Jane Redding.

Each class will sponsor a card party during the year and the class officers and representatives and their parents are designated as the steering committee. The Junior party will be held Wednesday, November 28.

There are six new faculty members at Delone this year and they include Sister Arline, Sister Celeste and Sister Mary de Lourdes, who are Sisters of Christian Charity; Sister Naomi and Sister Constance, Sisters of Mercy. The sixth member is Thomas Staub, a former Delonite, who won the Sonny Sheppard Scholarship and was graduated from Mt. St. Mary's College.

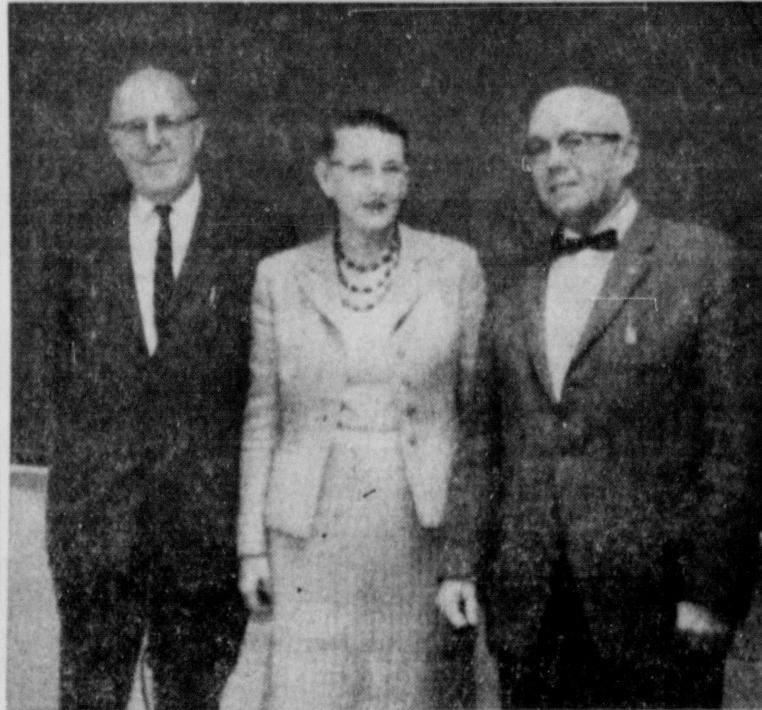

The traditional initiation of the Frosh took place at Delone recently. When the Freshmen arrived at the school they received a hearty welcome from members of the Senior class. The greenies went through the annual routine of humbly obeying every Senior's command. Green was also the official color of the day for the class of '66. It predominated in everything the Freshmen wore from different colored socks to neckties, to bows in the hair.

GET FREE DAY

The annual magazine drive at the school has ended and because the goal of $11,000 was reached the principal, Rev. William R. Lyons, has set a date for a free day. Odella Thommassey received an award for high sales for the entire drive. Every student who reached his quota of $10 in sales received a ZIP tag denoting zeal, industry and perseverance. Those belonging to the $15 club were permitted a free movie on a school afternoon. Each student who sold $25 worth of subscriptions received a skimmer and became eligible for a trip to New York City for two. Those who reached $50 in sales were awarded a stuffed fur animal. Every day during the campaign, a chosen student who had his quota went fishing for prizes. "There were also individual prizes for daily high salesmen."

Court Gives Nod
To Birth Control

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Arizona Supreme Court has approved distribution of birth control literature by the planned parenthood committee of Phoenix. Its decision Wednesday also granted permission to the committee to operate birth control clinics.

Civil Defense Director of Adams County William G. Weaver (left above) gave county school teachers an analysis of Adams County's current CD posture as the teachers gathered Wednesday evening for Civil Defense training course to be given by Mrs. Eleanor Bennett of the state Department of Public Instruction. On the right is County Superintendent of Schools M. Francis Coulson who set up the training course for the county teachers.

Treece, pastor of the host church, will give the "call to worship" and the benediction. The organist will be Mrs. Elmira Deardorff. "At a time when the world is deeply aware of a need for peace, the general public is invited to share in this special program of worship," Mrs. Richard Deane, general chairman, said today.

The theme for this year's observance is "Deepen the Channels to Peace." Recently, Dr. Folkemer was elected president of the board of higher education of the newly merged Lutheran Church in America, a position he has held since 1956 in the United Lutheran Church in America.

Prior to accepting the professorship at the local seminary, Dr. Folkemer served as pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Reformation, Washington, D. C. From 1947 to 1954 he was founder and head of the department of religion at George Washington University, Washington, D. C. His latest writing "Christianity and Modern Paganism" was published as a result of his Knobel-Miller lectures in 1959 for the United Lutheran Church in America.

In November, 1960, Dr. Folkemer was the Protestant representative of the United States on a guest program of the Federal Republic of Germany, and in 1957 he was the ULCA delegate to the General Assembly of the National Council of Churches. In that year also he was a member of a study group of the Christian Century World Seminar in the Far and Middle East. This tour gave special emphasis on Southeast Asia, the area of concern for this year's observance of World Community Day.

Brazil's name comes from a reddish wood greatly prized by early colonists for dye.

ENTERTAIN AT COUNTY HOME

The Tuck-a-Batch Class, members and friends, of St. John's Lutheran Church visited the guests at the Adams County Home, near Gettysburg, on Tuesday evening. The group entertained with an old-fashioned hymn sing, and request numbers were received from the guests. Mrs. Malcolm Hess was piano accompanist. Seasonal poems were read by Mrs. George W. Strevig and Mrs. Joseph Selby. The class also took homemade cookies for the guests. There was a brief business period in charge of Mrs. George Trump, president. Plans were made to have the next regular meeting on Tuesday, November 27, at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Spangler, near town.

A Halloween party was enjoyed by 19 members of the Mason and Dixon 4-H Club and five visitors on Friday evening at the Ralph Unger cottage, near town. The group attended masked and there were identity guessing contests. Three games were played and refreshments were served by the members.

There was a brief business session in charge of the president, Richard Ferrebee. Yvonne Unger, secretary, gave her report. Final reports on all projects were given and books and ribbons for projects were returned. The club will not meet again until March.

The Brownies of Troop 976 had a Halloween party on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Herbert J. Sell, Prince St., assistant leader of the troop. Prizes for costumes were awarded to Becky Feeser, the funniest; Pamela Breighner, ugliest; Jeannie Jago, most original; Sandy King, the prettiest. Judges were Mrs. Herbert Plunkert and the troop aide, Peggy Altoff. Prizes for games went to Cindy Daum, Melissa Keagy, Kathy Kerns, Carol Baumgardner, Jennifer Frock, Debbie Adams and Becky Feeser. Mrs. Samuel J. Snyder, troop leader, told a Halloween story. Refreshments were served by the leaders and troop committee members. Mrs. Snyder Mrs. Sell, Mrs. Harry D. Feeser, Mrs. Lloyd L. King, Mrs. Dale Moose, also Linda Sentz. Guests were Jane Plunkert and Johnny Sell.

Biglerville Soldier
In NATO Exercise

Sergeant Dale H. Hollabaugh, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Hollabaugh, Biglerville R. 1, recently participated in FALLEX, a large-scale NATO exercise in Germany.

FALLEX is an annual exercise designed to test the over-all combat readiness and effectiveness of NATO forces in Europe.

Sergeant Hollabaugh entered the Army in 1955 and arrived overseas in October 1961. He is assigned as a platoon sergeant in Troop I of the 3d Armored Cavalry Regiment's 3d Reconnaissance Squadron in Kaiserslautern.

He is a graduate of Biglerville High School. Naturalists Ralph and Florence Welles believe that the celebrated butting matches of bighorn rams are probably rituals, not serious fights for possession of mates. The bouts apparently fulfill some deep urge in the mating season but do not directly concern the ewes.

Let's Look At The Record

RUSSIAN SHIPS
Merchant Fleet Neglected For Cruisers
Navy Large But Lacks Modern Punch

By JIM BAN HILL, Ph.D.
President Wisconsin State College, Superior

THE SUDDEN capitulation of Russia in the Cuban crisis was a victory for American seapower. It was the large, strategic, nuclear powered, 6,000-ton, high speed, Polaris armed submarines that had Khrushchev literally under the gun.

There was also the American-Mediterranean fleet, with its carrier based planes. Around Cuba were the capabilities for an iron clad blockade and support of a seaborne invasion, should punitive action be necessary.

Backing up the American fleet was the still powerful and tightly concentrated units of the smaller British Navy.

Since Russia has spent billions on her Navy, which is second in size only to that of the United States, it is well to examine her fleets to see why Khrushchev wisely relaxed instead of reacting against the firm American grip on the seas.

THE RUSSIAN NAVY has been built up to the neglect of a badly needed, revenue producing merchant fleet. Russia had to charter ships with neutral flags to support her schemes in Cuba. Of course, the crews of such ships sang like stool pigeons cooing to a warden.

Since 1945 the Russians have built no less than 24 cruisers of such size (19,000 tons full load) and speed that in World War II they would have been classed as "baby battleships." They are handsome vessels and fast — 34 knots. Some have been converted to missile ships.

In the same years, Russia has built not so much as one passenger ship. Contracts for 11 small liners, only 4,800 tons each, were let to German shipbuilders in 1958. They are being delivered now.

They are the pride of the Russian merchant marine. They are on the so-called showcase, luxury run: Leningrad-Stockholm-Copenhagen - London - LeHavre and return. Each ship has two de luxe suites and first class accommodations for 68; second class, 78; and steerage, 195. To Western passenger ship operators these little tubs are laughable.

Russia's cargo fleet in 1961 numbered 825 vessels. This includes the large and the small; mostly small, obsolete coasters. It does include 123 tankers with an average tonnage of 10 to 12 thousand tons each — not very large, as modern tankers go.

Little Norway, by contrast, has a merchant fleet of nearly 1,400 ships, which includes about 500 tankers.

For a nation of 214,400,000 people and 8,599,776 square miles, with long coast lines, with the largest geo-political unit in the world, the foregoing are disgraceful merchant marine figures.

WITH WARSHIPS the Russian production statistically looks much better. But in terms of power, Russia is not getting much for the money invested. Otherwise, the current blockade, which forced Russia into the most humiliating backdown in diplomatic history, would have been vigorously challenged.

Though Russia has next to the largest navy in the world in terms of men, ships and tonnage, it is not so organized and distributed that it has a strong punch anywhere.

Geography divides it into four fleets: The Arctic fleet, based on Murmansk, accounts for about 35 per cent of the Navy's strength; the Baltic Fleet, 35 per cent; the Black Sea 15 per cent; and Vladivostok, 15 per cent.

The Russian Fleet Air Arm numbers no less than 85,000 officers and men with 4,000 aircraft. They include jet fighters and bombers. But Russia cannot mount a high seas fleet operation. Her Navy does not have so much as one, high seas, airplane carrier.

Russia's cruisers were obsolete before they were launched, their beauty and speed notwithstanding. This is but partially true of those that have been converted to missile ships. These are believed to have short range to intermediate range birds.

SUBMARINES, in the Russian Navy, are something else.

Russia has the largest submarine fleet in the world — but neither the best, nor the most modern. One European authority says Russia has 450 submarines. Another says 500. Americans believe the correct figure is between these extremes. The disagreement is on the question as to how many old German submarines the Russians have scrapped.

Only three Russian subs have nuclear power. Each is less than half the size with much less speed than our Polaris missile-bearing, atomic-powered subs of the George Washington class. Most experts on Russian arms think Khrushchev was lying again in 1961 when he said Russia had a nuclear powered sub with Polaris type missiles.

In submarine detection and anti-submarine warfare, Russia is years behind United States and England. For this purpose she does have about 150 World War II type destroyers. Their detection gear is equally old.

Had Khrushchev had an adequate submarine defense for check-marking America's deployed and positioned missile bearing Polaris subs, it is not likely that he would have folded so graciously in the Cuban crisis.

MAN ADMITS HE KILLED WOMAN IN '54

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Former Pittsburgh John J. O'Neill, 42, was in custody today on a charge of murder in the death of Mrs. Pearl Kercher, 49, whose body was stored in a box in a warehouse for five years.

William Gilmore, Pittsburgh detective superintendent, said O'Neill made a verbal confession Wednesday in Louisville, Ky., admitting that he killed Mrs. Kercher "around April 12, 1954," and sealed her body inside a tin box.

The box was stored in a Pittsburgh warehouse in 1957. O'Neill did not say where it was kept between 1954 and 1957. Last Saturday a warehouse employee, preparing for a sale of "unclaimed merchandise," noticed an odor from the box and discovered the body.

NAME ON BOX

O'Neill's name on the box led to his arrest Tuesday in Louisville, police said.

Pittsburgh homicide detectives Louis Hamel and William Schumde and Assistant Dist. Atty. Samuel Strauss of Allegheny County heard his confession and brought him back to Pittsburgh after he waived extradition. He was charged here with murder Wednesday night.

Allegheny County Coroner Joseph B. Dobbs, who identified the body said Mrs. Kercher, a thrice-married divorcee, had died of a skull fracture apparently inflicted with "an instrument of some kind."

NO MOTIVE YET

O'Neill had not told detectives the method or motive of the killing, Gilmore said.

Mrs. Kercher's most recent marriage was to Arthur Kercher of suburban Penn Hills. A daughter by a previous marriage still lives in the Pittsburgh area.

O'Neill, an itinerant worker at various trades, was crew chief of a group of salesmen selling portrait photographs door-to-door at the time of his arrest.

MORE EXPERTS AS WITNESSES

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A cancer authority says there is a statistical link between smoking and lung cancer, but that the question of a possible biological link is still unsolved.

Dr. Alexander G. Gilliam, assistant chief of field investigations for the National Cancer Institute, gave the opinion in a deposition taken at Silver Spring, Md., in March, 1960.

It was read into the record in U. S. District Court Wednesday by attorneys for the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co., which is being sued by Otto Pritchard, 64, of Pittsburgh. Pritchard claims the firm's Chesterfield cigarettes gave him lung cancer.

In answer to questions, Dr. Gilliam said in the deposition, "As far as I am concerned, the evidence is that at least white males in the United States and in Western Europe who are heavy smokers of cigarettes experience a greater risk of lung cancer than white males of comparable ages who do not smoke."

"Whether or not this means that smoking has anything whatsoever to do with cancer of the lung in any biological sense is, as far as I am concerned, an additional problem which remains to be resolved."

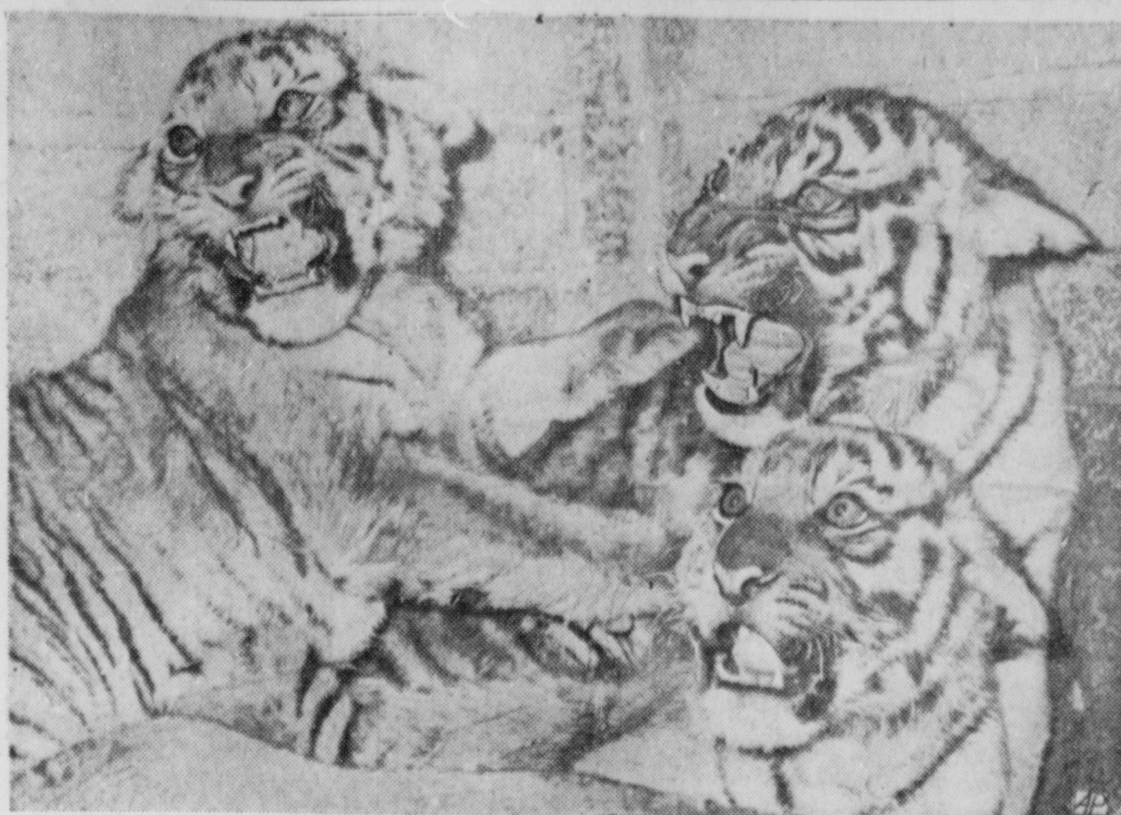

He said he could not say with certainty that smoking caused Pritchard's cancer.

Steelworkers' Suit Dismissed

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A panel of three Allegheny County Common Pleas Court judges has dismissed a suit brought by 15 steelworkers for recovery of $225,000 in lost wages from the United Steelworkers Union.

The opinion, written by Judge Ruggero J. Aldisert and joined in by Judges David Olburn and Walter P. Smart, handed down Wednesday upheld the union's preliminary objections; said the complainants failed to prove their case; and added that suit had been filed after expiration of the six-year statute of limitations.

The workers, laid off at the Monessen Works of Pittsburgh Steel Co. in July, 1953, claimed they should have been considered under plant, not departmental, seniority and should not have been laid off.

SHARP OUTLOOK — Doreen, Deidre and Dawn form a mighty toothy trio in this snarling scene at the Whipsnade Zoo in Bedfordshire, England. The 14-month-old tiger triplets had just been separated from their mother, Casah, a Bengal tigress.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

"THE DEFENSE CONTINUES"

In their attempt to prove their client "insane at the time of the murder of Emily Myers," the defense attorneys called many witnesses to the stand and a great deal of conflicting testimony was given. Some of it did more harm than good — but the parade marched on — seemingly without end.

9. (Saturday morning) Thomas Scott, Marietta, Pennsylvania, Hotel-keeper —

"I have known the prisoner for at least 12 years and during that time I never noticed anything unusual about him. I have seen boys making game of John but he pays no attention to them. I always thought him of sound mind."

10. Emily Robbins, Marietta, Pennsylvania —

WANTED SILK DRESS

Miss Robbins testified that "the prisoner asked me to marry him — once stopping as he passed. He seemed very much in earnest. I told him (Coyle) that I (Emily Robbins) would not get married until I had a silk dress. John told me he would get me one of his mother's and we could be married that afternoon. He (Coyle) was sober at the time. I did not think he was of sound mind. Many times I have seen him (John Coyle Jr.) play marbles with boys seven or eight years old."

11. Melchoir Harline —

This witness testified briefly that he had always considered "the prisoner not quite right — judging from his language and actions."

12. H. G. Beatty, school teacher of Marietta, Pennsylvania —

"John Coyle Jr., spoke to me once of going home from Marietta by way of Columbia and Wrightsville; said he was afraid the ice would not bear him (Coyle) going back — this during hot weather. This and many other instances convinced me that he was not of sound mind. I have seen the small boys torment him. Have also seen him play marbles with both white and black boys."

PLANNED SUICIDE

13. (Monday morning) Defense called Mrs. Mary Ann Coyle and Mrs. Kate Hinkle who both testified that the prisoner "wanted to take poison being fixed for rats some five years ago."

Mrs. Hinkle prevented him but thought "he could have taken it if he had pushed her (Kate Hinkle) aside."

14. John Coyle Sr. —

Took the stand and denied, in no uncertain terms, "having told Annie Myers or F. J. Magee that John had shot at Emily Myers on the Saturday before the murder or that he (John Coyle Sr.) had hidden the pistol used at that time."

15. Henry Matthews, Marietta, Thomas J. White, John Raymond, John Harris, George Wilson and Joseph S. Wilson all testified.

"They the witnesses," had had business dealings with the prisoner and always thought him of sound and clear mind. It was admitted, under cross examination, that John Coyle Jr., was not thought to be "quite normal."

OTHERS TESTIFY

16. Frank J. Magee, Esq. — This witness flatly contradicted John Coyle Sr. and said that the latter had testified at the inquest that his "son had shot at Emily Myers on the Saturday before the actual murder."

Mrs. Elizabeth Mack and Miss Annie E. Myers heard Coyle Sr. say the "same thing at another time."

The Commonwealth called the Sheriff of York County, Pennsylvania, to prove that the answer of the prisoner, John Coyle Jr., — "I don't know anything about it," when called to plead to the indictment was dictated by H. L. Fuller, Esq., his counsel, in the presence of the Sheriff, Mr. Fisher indignantly denied this, and Mr. Chapman objected to the testimony as "violating the confidence between prisoner and Counsel."

erful plea on his (Coyle's) behalf — treating of insanity in all its phases."

Wednesday morning — George W. McElroy, Esq., made the closing argument for the prosecution, speaking for one and a half hours.

"His Honor, Judge Wickes charged the jury at 10:35 a.m., clearly defining murder in its degrees and manslaughter, and going over briefly the testimony in the case. He gave a detailed statement of the law and its relation to insanity as a defense to accusations of crime. At 11:30 a.m., the jury retired to deliberate, and the Court adjourned until 1:30 p.m. when the court reconvened and the Jury brought in its verdict —

"Guilty of murder in the first degree."

"The prisoner himself did not appear to be affected, although his lips quivered as he waited to hear the verdict. His aged mother sobbed aloud, while his father evidently labored to restrain his feelings."

"After the verdict was recorded, Mr. Fisher gave notice that he would file a motion for a new trial and in arrest of judgment."

The account of the Coyle-Myers murder will be continued next week.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The nation urgently needs able trial lawyers who are not afraid to support unpopular or unremunerative issues, says the president of the American Bar Association.

Sylvester C. Smith, Jr., who is also general counsel for the Prudential Insurance Co. of America, addressed the Allegheny County Bar Association Wednesday.

The Detroit Tigers hit 209 American League home runs last season.

APATHY AMONG SATELLITES A CUBAN FACTOR

By GENE KRAMER

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Apathy among the Soviet satellite regimes in Eastern Europe apparently was a factor in Premier Khrushchev's agreement to ship his missiles home from Cuba.

Many diplomats think Poland's Communist government for example, straddled the fence as much as it dared during last week's crisis.

There wasn't even a "hands off Cuba" demonstration outside the American Embassy in Warsaw such as occurred before the embassies in Moscow, London, Copenhagen, Tokyo and Prague.

ONLY 2 REQUESTS U.S. diplomatic notes about the arms quarantine were fired back by the Kremlin. Similar notes got only polite oral rebuttals here.

Many a Pole privately abhorred the idea that the Soviet Union might fight over Cuba. "If there is war over Cuba, I have two requests of America," a Polish writer told this reporter. "First, don't use nuclear weapons. Second, win it."

Despite the sustained propaganda buildup, Castro and his bearded cohorts are not regarded as comrades in arms by many East Europeans.

CAN'T IGNORE TIES

About one-third of Poland's trade is with the West, and the country exchanges mail with perhaps 8 million people of Polish stock in America and Western Europe. These are ties local Communist leaders cannot ignore when they consider a showdown over such a remote place as Cuba.

Polish Communist party chief Wladislaw Gomułka is thought to have considerable influence with Khrushchev. Presumably he counseled caution on Cuba.

USE MAILS IN LAND SWINDLE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Chief Postal Inspector Henry B. Montague said Wednesday that swindlers are currently making heavy use of the mails to sell worthless land to unsuspecting purchasers.

Montague, addressing the National Association of Postmasters convention, said postal investigators are looking into some 125 land-swindle cases in which out-of-state property is sold by mail for a small down payment and monthly installments.

He said some of the land sold this way turned out to be arid and some of the "land" was completely under water.

"Some promotions have even involved land in South American jungles," he added.

Swindlers are also plying medical "cure-alls" and work-at-home schemes through the mail, he said. Assistant Postmaster General Richard J. Murphy also addressed the convention Wednesday, and announced two innovations:

Seat belts are being installed in the postal department's huge fleet of 44,000 vehicles; and 30,000 post office window clerks will don blue uniforms with maroon ties by Nov. 15.

"A clear choice for Senator"

The Pittsburgh Press

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1962

A Clear Choice For Senator

THE PRESS had occasion, on this page yesterday, to note the difference in the voting records of the two candidates for U. S. Senator on issues involving the defense of the U. S. and the free world against the Communist Cold War threat.

The isolationist record of Rep. James E. Van Zandt, Republican, and the support of defense measures by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, Democrat, is not the only dissimilarity between these two candidates. There are vast differences in their competence, personalities and voting records on other issues. Voters will do well to make careful note of these differences.

Senator Clark is a seasoned and valuable public official who has worked hard for the past six years and sponsored a great deal of legislation to combat the effects of the chronic unemployment which has afflicted much of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Van Zandt is a political opportunist and professional veteran who, in 21 years' service in the House of Representatives, has produced nothing that would justify the promotion he seeks.

Even now, the Area Redevelopment Act, which Mr. Clark co-sponsored, is going into effect and distressed communities in this State are in line for Federal help. So is the manpower retraining law provided for in the Clark-Holland Act, designed to do something about the hopeless misery of chronic joblessness. So is the public works program authorized in the law Mr. Clark co-sponsored.

Joe Clark has done all that could reasonably be expected to help the distressed of Pennsylvania. He has supported aid of various kinds to individuals, communities, institutions and industries, including urban renewal, public housing, higher education, coal research and laws to help small business.

He is a student of government who, before his Senate term, made a brilliant record as the reform mayor of Philadelphia and helped put over a new city charter.

As for Mr. Van Zandt, he went to Congress (in 1938) as a supporter of the Townsend Plan, a demagogic depression-time proposal to put every aged person on the Government payroll. To this day, he has never receded from his advocacy of this giveaway.

Mr. Van Zandt is a high-tariff man, whose views on international trade would be more appropriate to the 19th Century than the latter half of the 20th. He consistently votes against any and all reciprocal trade programs and in recent weeks tried to defeat the President's trade expansion program without which the U. S. would be frozen out of the huge European market.

Were his views on economics to prevail, we would be plunged into unemployment many times worse than what we have now. His cure for unemployment is to stop imports of foreign steel—a "remedy" which would hurt more than it would help. He would aid the coal industry by the short-sighted step of preventing the Government from generating power from the waste steam produced by its Hanford, Wash., atomic plant —with Pennsylvania's coal mines almost 3000 miles away.

Almost the sole claim to fame of this man who would be senator is the three terms he served as national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the two terms as State VFW commander.

And that prompts a footnote on his political-career. Just as he would cheerfully put the nation in hock for the Townsend Plan, so would he support any and all handouts for veterans, whether justified or not. As a case in point, he led the campaign for the State bonus for World War II veterans—and the debt created by that bonus is one reason why we're all paying a four per cent sales tax today.

This campaign, in short, pits an intelligent, hard-working and responsible public official against a man who caters to pressure groups and espouses reckless, unwise and ruinous policies for the votes he can get thereby. The choice should be easy for the thinking voter.

VOTE DEMOCRATIC NOV. 6th

Clark for Senator Committee, Walter M. Phillips, Treasurer

Lowell Thomas Jr., Congressman's Son And French-Canadian Have Chance To Win Seats In Next Session Of House

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Studding the political map this year are many close, intriguing contests for seats in the U.S. House of Representatives.

The roster of the new Congress could be sprinkled with new names, such as that of Lowell Thomas Jr., Republican son of the explorer-lecturer. He is given an even chance of unseating a Democrat in the vast 49th state, Alaska.

The junior member of a mother-son legislative team could come back from Ohio, along with his mother. He is former Rep. Oliver P. Bolton (R). His mother, Rep. Frances P. Bolton, a long-time Republican, is rated well ahead in her try for re-election.

EYE KEY DISTRICTS

On the other hand, a Democrat could get the House chair being relinquished by Republican Rep. Horace Seely-Brown Jr. to run for the Senate from Connecticut. He is William St. Onge, French-Canadian descended mayor of Putnam.

On election night, experts always watch returns from key districts—fewer than 100 of them—which have been close in the past, or for one reason or another are rated as symptomatic now.

This year knowledgeable on-lookers will be watching also for the effects of reapportionment resulting from the 1960 census. For example, seven districts have been reshaped in such fashion that in each of them two members of the House are fighting it out.

263 DEMOCRATS

The 437-member House is now 263-174 Democratic, counting two Democratic vacancies. In the new Congress the total membership will drop back to 435.

The outcome in the key districts will tell whether President Kennedy is to get his heart's desire of more Democrats—preferably of the Kennedy philosophy—or whether Republicans will make a sizable dent in Democratic control.

Here's a look at just a few interesting House struggles:

Connecticut
2nd—Democrat St. Onge is favored somewhat to win the seat being vacated by Seely-Brown. The Republican candidate is Moses A. Savin, former mayor of New London. Both long-time civic workers, they argue about who can do most to attract new industry to this eastern area of the Nutmeg State.

Pennsylvania
6th District—This revamped district in eastern Pennsylvania merges a strongly GOP area with a heavily Democratic bailiwick. Two incumbents are squared away and the outcome is rated a tossup. The battlers: Rep. Ivor D. Fenton (R) of Mahanoy City and Rep. George M. Rhodes (D) of Reading.

West Virginia
1st—Looks so close that most impartial experts shy away from forecasts.

The census cost West Virginia a House seat, so in this merged district Rep. Cleveland M. Bailey (D) and Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr. (R) are pitted against each other.

The new district is made up of all seven counties of the old 1st, which Moore has represented for three terms, plus six counties from the old 3rd, which elected Bailey eight times.

Going for Bailey is a sizable Democratic advantage in registrations. On the other hand, two years ago Moore carried the old 1st by 27,700, though registration favored the Democrats by more than 30,000.

North Carolina
8th—Voters in this re-drawn district choose between two men remarkably alike—both conservatives, both lawyers, both incumbents.

Rep. Charles R. Jonas, long the only Tar Heel Republican in Congress, represented the old 10th District. Rep. A. Paul Kitchin was incumbent in the old 8th.

In the new crescent-shaped district, Jonas is slightly favored because the counties in it include his home county of Lincoln and populous Mecklenburg (Charlotte), often anchors of GOP strength.

MIDWEST

20th—Few dare bet on the result in this agriculture-conscious district in west central Illinois, a merged one where two incumbents are running. The contestants: Rep. Peter F. Mack, who calls himself an independent Democrat, often is a maverick, and omits the word Democrat from his billboards; Rep. Paul Findley, strongly conservative Republican.

Ohio
11th—Consensus is that Republican Oliver P. Bolton will bounce back to unseat Rep. Robert E. Cook, New Frontiersman from Ravenna, in this district in Ohio's northeast corner. Bolton held the seat for two terms from 1953 to 1957 until he was sidelined by a heart attack.

Bolton's late father, Chester C., served in Congress and his mother, Frances, has held a House seat since 1940. She represents the 22nd District in sub-ban Cleveland.

Indiana
5th—A rematch of a 1960 race which took months to settle is in progress here in north central Hoosier-land. The incumbent, Rep. J. Edward Roush (D), appears ahead narrowly but could get his walking papers if there's a strong GOP trend elsewhere.

Roush, 42, of Huntington, is in a tough struggle with Republican George O. Chambers, of Anderson, who lost to Roush two years ago only on the basis of a House Committee's recount. On the final official canvass in Indiana Chambers was 12 votes ahead. After a recount which wound up before the congressional committee Roush was declared the winner by 99.

Iowa
5th—Looks like this revamped district will re-elect a Democrat. Rep. Neal Smith His opponent is Mrs. Sonja C. Egenes, a former university instructor who carries the endorsement of former President Eisenhower. The district includes Boone County, Mamie Eisenhower's birthplace.

The predictions are that strongly Democratic Polk County, which includes Des Moines, will go heavily for Smith and that Republicans don't have enough strength in the rest of the district to offset this.

WEST

Idaho
2nd—A Democratic congressman could be upset here, though at the moment he appears leading. He is Rep. Ralph R. Harding of Blackfoot, running against state Rep. Orval Hansen (R) of Idaho Falls.

Utah
1st—A tossup, but Rep. M. Blaine Peterson (D) could have slight advantage. He won by only 68 votes in 1960 and fights for political life against Laurence J. Burton (R), political science professor.

cers Association, and state Sen. Bruce S. Jenkins (D). Lloyd could win, though his present edge looks narrow.

Alaska

For the state's lone House seat, Rep. Ralph J. Rivers (D) faces tough opposition in Lowell Thomas Jr., Republican son of the explorer-lecturer. The contest looks even-even now.

Anchorage, the state's largest city, holds the key. With an unforeseen—by anyone—swing to the Republicans in 1960, Anchorage was instrumental in giving Richard M. Nixon the state's three electoral votes.

India's TV Station Serves High Schools

NEW DELHI (AP) — India's only television station recently stepped up its power to 5,000 watts and is now serving 50,000 high school students in the capital area.

Under a grant from the Ford Foundation, All India Radio is telecasting chemistry, physics, English and Hindi lectures to students in the ninth and 10th grades in Delhi. The lectures and demonstrations are taped by Indian teachers in advance.

The program began in October 1961 with 144 schools taking part. As of September 1962, 379 sets were functioning in 189 schools. Extension of the program to Bombay and other cities is envisioned. There are no plans in India at present for any other TV stations except educational ones.

to imply that such a theological school should be subservient to its parent church body to the point of endangering either its character as an institution of higher learning or its freedom to be critical of the organized church.

"The first thesis: At the center of a theological school, created and maintained by the church, is the worship of Almighty God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit. The most prominent building on the campus is the chapel, inasmuch as it symbolizes such worship and provides appropriate facilities for its corporate expression. Both corporate worship and the devotional life of the individual are integral to the enterprise."

"It is tragic and ironic that all too frequently a chapel is the last building to be constructed in a seminary compound. Classrooms there must be at the outset, and dormitories, and a refectory, and, of course, offices; but for worship, well, any large classroom or lecture hall will do, or perhaps the church across the street can be made available! There are usually stubborn economic reasons for this pattern of postponement and make-do, and yet, would this pattern really have been necessary in most cases if the founding fathers of our seminaries had genuinely envisioned worship as central in theological education. But why point a finger at the founding fathers? I have heard board members, administrators, and professors relegate worship in a theological school to a peripheral position of little more significance than a coffee break!"

GIVES TWO ANSWERS

"Why? Because the church has the right to expect the graduates of theological schools to be, first of all, men of God, men who in a very special sense have been nurtured by Word and Sacrament during their seminary years, men who by daily discipline have learned to live in the Presence of Christ, men who by corporate worship and private devotion have come to know what it means to present themselves as a living sacrifice, men who have meditated and labored together to the glory of their Creator and Redeemer. This is one answer to the question, 'Why must worship be central?' The orientation of this answer is to the future; its emphasis is upon preparation for the ministry of the church."

"There is another answer, equally valid, to the question, 'Why centrality of worship?' Because unless a seminary daily kneels, alone and with his fellows, in the Presence of God, there to receive His forgiveness, guidance, and power, sooner or later the divine call will grow faint, the inner wells of the spirit will go dry, and there will be only a dusty land where the paty of commitment has faded away."

MOST UNUSUAL

"The fact of the matter is that theological education is a most unusual kind of education. A student can successfully complete his education in medicine, in law, in engineering and never in this educational process be personally confronted with the ultimate questions of existence. Not so in theological education where the ultimate questions abound, and there is no escape."

"It has been affirmed times without number that a theological school is a Christian community of teachers and students. It should be indeed! The force of the affirmation, however, depends upon our understanding of Christian community. Frequently this understanding is in terms of a togetherness fostered by softball tournaments, faculty open houses, seasonal festivities, and animated conversations between students and professors outside the classroom. Christians may engage in this commendable activity to their profit, but such activity does not create Christian community, which is nurtured only by Word and Sacrament. Only as students and faculty members faithfully and joyfully assemble to hear the Word and to receive the Sacrament of the Altar will they live in Christian community, that is, in Christ."

"The second thesis: The task of a theological school, created and maintained by the church, is the study of God's truth and grace as evidenced in history with a view to the actualization of His truth and grace in the lives of men and women today. Surrounding the chapel, the symbolic center of a school of theology campus, are the library and classroom buildings, symbolizing the work to which both students and faculty members give themselves."

SERIOUS BUSINESS

"A theological school is not a founding home for social rejects, nor a browsing corner for dilettantes, nor a trade school for ecclesiastical specialists, nor a citadel of pietism for frightened Christians. A school of theology is an institution dedicated to intellectual pursuits whose prototype is any top-ranking professional school on a graduate level. This enterprise is educational in the broadest and deepest sense.

"If this concise delineation of the character of a school of theology is sound, then such a school should be open to those students who regard theological education as a serious intellectual undertaking and who are adequately prepared for such an undertaking. There are, of course, other important criteria for admission but unless an applicant meets this qualification four score testimonials to his impeccable character and great sincerity should not swing open the door."

"Upon enrollment seminarians should accept honestly and completely their status as students, and act accordingly."

MEANS TO END

"The tragedy is that seminarians generally seem to take a cheap utilitarian view of their theological education. It is merely a means to an end, that is, to receiving the 'union card' otherwise known as ordination. Admittedly, from a Christian perspective all education ought to be a means to an end, namely, the glory of God. I am talking about a phenomenon on a much lower level, the phenomenon of a seminarian who evaluates everything in terms of its obvious usefulness to him in the church's ministry, of a seminarian who constantly has his eye on the job ahead of him rather than upon the truth to be apprehended and served."

"It also follows that a theological school should accept honestly and completely its responsibility for scholarship, and act accordingly."

"Theology was once 'queen of the sciences,' and a great university prior to the modern era was unthinkable without a strong theological faculty. As we all know, such a relationship has long since disappeared. It is highly doubtful that theology will ever again regain its position as sovereign. This doubt becomes a certainty with reference to our religiously pluralistic American culture. But theology can never be content with a status of 'bare toleration.'"

MUST EARN RESPECT

"To a large extent the low estate of theology in the academic arena can be traced to the sweeping secularization of all education, and especially higher education. In this secular academic climate it is assumed as self-evident that theology does not constitute a legitimate sphere of serious intellectual inquiry."

"There is another reason for the low estate of theology in this country, namely, questionable academic standards, especially in the denominational schools. Today no school of theology which is open to this criticism, and remains vulnerable, has a right to respect in the field of higher education. At least it ought to be said that the Lutheran Church in America cannot afford to maintain such educational institutions."

"The statement of ultimate objectives has several implications. I shall suggest two only. In the first place, although a student is rightly expected to assimilate a considerable amount of factual knowledge in the classic fields of Biblical literature, church history and systematic theology, the emphasis must not be merely upon the mastery of facts but upon the mastery of a methodology with which to deal with the facts. The emphasis upon responsible methodology not only advances the ultimate objectives as stated but also increases greatly the probability that the graduates of a theological school will never cease to be students."

STUDY AND EXPERIENCE

"The second implication is this: Work in the classic fields of Biblical, historical and systematic theology may still not reach beyond the cloisters unless the curriculum of a seminary includes study and experience which will bring about an understanding of contemporary man and his culture as well as proficiency in the use of tools (existing and newly designed) with which the church seeks to minister to this culture."

"And now the third thesis: A theological school, created and maintained by the church, carries on its work in dynamic relationship with the world and especially with the culture in which it exists. As the chapel symbolizes the seminary's worship and library-classrooms symbolize the intellectual character of its task, the symbol of its context is a montage of human beings launching space ships and atomic submarines, testing cancer cures and hydrogen bombs, bouncing television off satellites and radar signals off the moon and yet, as always, conceiving and dying, loving and hating, blessing and cursing, singing and suffering, healing and killing, with or without faith, with or without hope. This is the world God made and, warped and twisted by sin as it is, it is still the world God loves and expects us to love."

"Mid-twentieth century is not the 16th nor the first century A.D. It is essential that students in a school of theology are discriminatingly aware of the kind of culture in which men are living today, and of what such a culture has done and is doing to men. It is patently true that human nature has not changed over the centuries, but the stresses and strains to which human nature is subjected today are vastly different from what they were when Dr. Martin Luther taught and

Dr. Harry F. Baughman, who retired September 1 as president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, offers his congratulations to the new president, Dr. Donald R. Heiges, at a reception following the inaugural service Wednesday afternoon. On the left is Mrs. Heiges and on the other side of the new president is his younger daughter, Joan. Also attending the inauguration and reception were Dr. Heiges' mother, Mrs. E. Dale Heiges; his mother-in-law, Mrs. William A. Kump, of Chambersburg, and his brother, Dr. Donald Heiges, of Washington, D. C. (Lane Studio) preached in Wittenberg. Just because a seminary has had several courses in psychology and has acquired some knowledge of the Reformation does not mean that he can communicate the Gospel to 20th century man. Moreover, the task is far deeper than what is usually meant by communication."

A SERIOUS CHARGE

"Therefore, a school of theology will take seriously the world, both as the context of its existence and the field of its concern. When all that goes on in a theological school is done with a view to the actualization of God's truth and grace in the life of contemporary man, then the critical and constructive involvement of students in the world is as important as their knowledge and understanding of what God has already done in history. This engagement will be as broad as time and opportunity allow but in minimal terms it will include dialog with representatives of nontheological disciplines, a period of clinical training in a hospital, participation in political or social action, direct exposure to contemporary art and literature, and apprenticeship in a parish. One of the most serious charges leveled against graduates of theological schools is that they are out of touch with reality. To the extent to which the charge is valid, a school of theology must see to it that its graduates are in touch with reality or creeping irrelevancy will infect the whole mission of the church."

"The cultural context in which the church exists today is so radically different from the context of any previous era that a theological school must give what may appear to be a disproportionate amount of attention to this context if the penetrating power of the Gospel is not to become increasingly dissipated. Yet this strange and terrible yet fascinating epoch has been labeled by profoundly perceptive analysts as post-Christian, not in the sense that faith is dead or will die shortly or that the church is disappearing or will disappear soon but in the sense that western culture is no longer informed in any significant way by the Christian faith."

SOME CHILLING FACTS

"There are those who prefer the term post-Christendom to post-Christian era, but regardless of the label, some chilling facts must be faced, as for example, (a) the steady retreat of the church during the past quarter of a century from almost all nonwestern countries which it had entered in the nineteenth century; (b) the change from a favorable to an unfavorable or even hostile climate in almost all western countries; and (c) the almost complete loss of the church in our own country of labor and the masses at one end of the spectrum, and of the intellectuals and the artists at the other end, and, in between, of hundreds of thousands of direction-determining persons in the major segments of our cultural life who ignore the church except as a political lobby or a status

LEGAL NOTICES

SOCIETY HOLDS SPOOK PARTY

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Luke's Union Church, near White Hall, had a Halloween party for Aid members and their families on Tuesday evening in the church grove hall. Despite the inclement weather, approximately 100 persons were in attendance. Group games were played and refreshments served. A guessing contest was won by Mrs. Charles E. Bupp.

Prizes for costumes were awarded in two divisions, as follows: Children's, ugliest, David Shultz; prettiest, Kathy Hartlaub; best dressed, Connie Breighner; funniest, James Gladhill; most original, James Shultz; best imitation, David Hartlaub; hardest to guess, Steven Breighner and Roger Leatherman.

HOGS—Receipts, 250; barrows and gilts scarce, few lots U.S. No. 1-3 190-220 lbs. steady at $18.25; sows virtually absent.

Special Feeder Auction: Estimated receipts, 1,000; report issued at 3:30 p.m. with 750 head sold: good and choice 705-1,069 lb. mostly 720-950 lb. feeder steers $24.80 27.75, bulk $25.75 and up, few medium and low good 730-1,094 lb. $21—24.25 and 1 lot common and medium 1,014 lb. Holsteins, $18.35, 2 loads mostly good 617-630 lb. $24.60—26.60, few medium and low good 600-695 lb., $22.85—24.50, largely choice 240-350 lb. steer calves with a few head fancy included $27.25—31.25, few good $25—28.50, few medium and good mixed steers and bulls, $20.60—23.60; 1 lot choice 441 lb. heifer calves, $25.85; mainly good and choice 260-655 lb. heifers and calves, $19—23.70, bulk $20.60 and up.

Adult division, ugliest, Richard Bense; prettiest, Connie Dayhoff; best dressed, Richard Rucker; funniest, Judy Appler; most original, Atlee Breighner, and the best imitation, Beverly Hartlaub. Judges were Mrs. Larry Crouse, Miss Vicki Gardner and Michael Gladhill. Arrangements for the party were in charge of Mrs. Parr R. Breighner, chairman. Mrs. Francis Dayhoff, Mrs. Rodney Harner, Mrs. David Sentz, Mrs. Roy Bittle, Mrs. Charles Bupp, Mrs. Kenneth Dayhoff, Mrs. Claude Flickinger, Mrs. Elwood Breighner and Mrs. Fred Hartlaub.

The next regular meeting of the Aid Society will be held Wednesday, November 14, 7:30 p.m. at the church. The hostess committee comprises Mrs. Fred Hartlaub, chairman, Mrs. James Erb, Mrs. Roy Reibling, Mrs. Glenn Snyder and Mrs. Atlee Breighner.

Christ Ambassadors Youth Service of Bethel Assembly of God Church, along the Fish and Game Rd., will meet at 7:30 p.m. on Friday at the church.

A roast turkey and oyster supper will be served to the public by St. James' United Church of Christ, along the Harney Rd., on Saturday, beginning at 3 p.m.

The annual hayride for members of the Christian Endeavor Society of Christ United Church of Christ and their guest will take place on Saturday evening, leaving from the church grove at 6:30 p.m.

UMBRELLA OVER WATER
BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) — Bowling Green boasts the largest "umbrella-roofed" structure in the world — its 5.1 million gallon city water reservoir.

MORE BREVITY

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Business consultant C. C. Heatt has learned that brevity pays off. He was negotiating a sizeable deal with a New York firm but his repeated inquiries went unanswered.

In desperation, Heatt sent off this note:

"Dear Sirs:
"When?"

In the next mail came this reply:

"Dear Sir:
"Soon."

Group Of Women Is Trying For Emancipation In Uganda

By LYNN HEINZLERING
KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Africa is still a man's world. All the shouting about freedom leaves most women grubbing for food, carrying water and firewood on their heads, and being sold to their husbands like cattle.

But a gentle revolution is under way in Uganda, the latest colony to become independent. A small group of women is leading a campaign to bring women into the new world of freedom.

British colonial officers, the churches and a few progressive Ugandans have made some progress in emancipating women in the cities. In the rural areas, where 90 per cent of the population live, tribal customs condemn women to a life of toil and bearing children.

PAY FOR BRIDES

Uganda fathers still extract a bride price for their daughters from prospective husbands. In some places this may amount only to a goat and a few small presents. In northern Uganda it may run to 10 or more head of cattle.

The bride once paid for, becomes little more than a chattel.

The husband's responsibility in the family runs to growing whatever cash crop he may choose, handling whatever money there is and sitting in the sun.

He may occasionally mash up green bananas, add water and sugar and wait for it to ferment into "African gin" or waragi. On ceremonial occasions he will dress up in leopard skins and monkey hides and get out his spear.

WIFE DOES WORK

The bride is expected to take care of the sweet potatoes, beans, turnips and bananas outside the family's hut and to bring the water from whatever spring or stream is available. She must also raise the family and provide daughters who will, in their turn, bring a fancy bride price. Sons are welcome too because they enlarge the clan.

The only women smashing these ancient tribal practices are those who get an education or marry more advanced African political leaders or businessmen.

From this group of women comes the move to improve the lot of rural women. One of the leaders is Mrs. Puma Kisoon.

Bermudian School News

Gary Shank has been cast as Homer Hollowbone; Bonnie Bowler as Maw Hollowbone; Jesse Stoner, Paw Hollowbone; Linda Hinkle Sarah Jo Hollowbone; Pat Green, Gracie May Hollowbone; Shirley Cornman, Fannie Jane Hollowbone; Louy Kuntz, Pepper Hollowbone; Vickie Gladfelter, Sis Hollowbone; Dick Wolf, Grandpappy Hankley; Mary Jane Chronister, Widow Blairhouse; Susan Bricker, Bertha House; Emory Golden, Slim Blairhouse; Joy Neidig, Melissa Dugan; Cheryl Snyder, Hortense Todd; and Cynthia Zepp, Isabel Todd.

Physical examinations for students competing for the boys and girls basketball teams have been completed. Girls practice is scheduled to begin today (Thursday).

Recent guidance testing included the Henmon-Nelson tests of mental ability given to Seventh Grade students.

October 25 Guidance Counselor John Rebert presented the film "When I'm Old Enough, Goodbye" to the sophomore class. The film was concerned with high school dropouts and the benefits of a high school education.

Crowned Miss Yearbook at the dance held Friday night at the high school was Senior Susan Bricker.

The Junior high football team lost to Littlestown October 25 by a score of 13 to 7. This week the boys will play their last game of the season at St. Vincent's.

Ten Bermudian Springs faculty members began a 15-hour course in basic civil defense Wednesday evening at Biglerville High School.

Successful completion of the course offered by the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction will qualify teachers to teach a 12-hour course in civil defense to adult education classes.

Enrolled are Robert W. Boltz, junior high English; Mildred Christman home economics; Edna Cobie, Grades Five and Six; Gary L. Crum, instrumental music; Mary K. Dissinger, Grade Five; John R. Korver, librarian; Amos D. Meyers, supervising principal; Louise Morelock, nurse; Helen Stockham, Grade Four; and Marilyn S. Wadel, Grade Five.

French teacher Eleanor C. Wolfinger announced today that 31 sophomore, junior and senior French students have sent their names to Paris, France, requesting native French students as correspondents.

Robert Karl Stoner, a 1962 graduate of Bermudian Springs, has been awarded a Certificate of Merit from the National Honor Society Scholarship Program, sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

Stoner, who now attends Messiah College is one of 2,325 students who received awards. These are the highest ranking students of the 87,410 senior members of the National Honor Society who are candidates for National Honor Society Scholarships and took the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test in October 1961.

On a recent field trip conducted by Carroll C. Slothour for the 11th and 12th Grade vocational agriculture classes, the boys visited the East Berlin Milling Company where they toured and received an explanation of the corn processing plant, including the drying of corn and its storage. They also toured the old part of the mill which includes water wheels and associated machinery.

The boys also visited the "Skip" Boyer dairy farm where they viewed a modern milking parlor and the loose housing of dairy stock; procedures for the production of low bacteria milk; the management necessary to maintain clean cows; a 18 by 50-foot trench silo with 12 feet of silage covered with a roof; silage covered polyethylene; a pole-type building used as a loafing barn providing one hundred square feet per cow and conventional barn converted for the housing of heifers and dry cows.

Another visit was at the Richard Alwine and sons dairy farm where they viewed a convention stall barn with automatic cleaner; loose housing for heifers and dry cows; the use of artificial breeding; two trench silos with open top and polyethylene covering, and calf pens in a converted poultry house.

Class meetings were held recently. The Seniors selected as their class motto: "An acre of performance is worth the whole world of promise." Seniors Lucy

The Juniors at their class meeting elected Joe Wolf as president; Susie Grim, vice president; Jean Brodbeck, secretary; Barbara Hull, treasurer; and Sue Lebo and Ed Rodrock, representatives to the athletic association.

Sophomores elected Natalie Smith, president; Jim Eisenhart, vice president; Barb McIlwee, secretary; Glenn Sauble, treasurer; and Andrea Heuser and Leighton Megonnell, athletic association representatives. Class dues were set at $1 for the year.

Freshmen elected Roger Smith, president; Dmytro Komesz, vice president; Charles Fink, secretary; Jay Smith, treasurer; and Betty Rodock and Tom Cashman, athletic association representatives. Class dues were set at 50 cents.

Eighth Graders elected Teresa Hopper, president; Jay Lehman, vice president; Jack Cashman, secretary; Anna Marie Hershey, treasurer, and Kay Cashman and Robert Lancaster, athletic association representatives. Class dues were set at 10 cents per month.

Seventh Graders elected Anna Beth Fadenrecht, president; Jackie Waltemyer, vice president; Tom Smyers, secretary; Earl Reese, treasurer; Jimmy Griffie and Pam Kennedy, representatives to the student council, and David Griffie and Shirley Starry, athletic association representatives.

At school club meetings held recently, Susie Bricker was named editor of the press club; Helen Hankey, coeditor; Sandra McCartney, Susie Bricker and Helen Hankey, artists.

Reporters for the press club are Arlene Davis, Linda Summers, Cynthia Harris; Janie Prosser, Janet Miller, Jane Weigand, Barbara Bricker, Janie Sloan, Diane Ditzler, Linda Kuntz, Barbara Wantz, Marlea Fair, Evelyn Miller, Joanne Miller, Ruthann Davis, Burnace Sherman, Linda Weigle, Joanne Sheaffer and Kay Cashman.

The Bible Club elected a general committee to supervise its activities. Members of the committee are Senior Jesse Stoner, Junior Dwight Fadenrecht, and Eighth Grader Carolyn Miller.

The Gym Club elected Dave Bricker, president; Barbara Markel, vice president; and Warren Weaver, secretary-treasurer. The club will operate as two groups, the girls under the direction of Miss Wilma Shierer, and the boys under the direction of Glenn Gruver.

Tricky Teens Club elected Diane Spangler, president; Jane Leathery, vice president; Gail Boyer, secretary; Delores Stanner, treasurer; and Gloria Jane Zepp, chaplain. Members of the club's cabinet are Shirley Starry, seventh grade; Gloria Jane Zepp, eighth grade; and Donna Cookery, ninth grade.

Tri-Hi-Y elected Debbie Hoffman, president; Paulette McIlwee, vice president; Darlene Wonders, secretary; and Karen DeHaven, treasurer.

Nice for brunch: Cheese sauce served over ham. Heat and lightly brown slices of cooked ham and arrange on buttered toast; pour over the cheese sauce.

Enforcement Of New Law Delayed

HARRISBURG (AP) — A new law requiring all motor vehicles to be equipped with automatic turn signals goes into effect Thursday but state police headquarters says strict enforcement will be delayed until April 30, 1963.

In an official order issued Tuesday, state police said: "In those instances where passenger cars are not equipped with turn signals, the operator and/or owner shall be given a verbal warning to the extent that the vehicle must be equipped with turn signals at the next official inspection of the vehicle."

Phoenixians colonized Malta nine centuries before Christ.

STATUS SYMBOL

The ability to speak English, official language of the new nation, has become a status symbol. The Uganda Council of Women has asked United Nations aid in teaching English.

The council also is pushing to get more women in government positions. With few women college graduates in Uganda, the number of qualified women is limited. Only two women work in government ministries.

For the rural women, the uplifting will be slow and painful. Most of them are illiterate as are their husbands. The husbands do not take kindly to wives working outside the vegetable patch and the hut.

NAME MOTHER HONOR GRAD AT GEORGIA TECH

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A mother has been named an honorary graduate at Georgia Tech without attending a single class at the engineering school.

Elizabeth B. Ziegler earned the distinction as the mother of seven Tech graduates, all good students and now successful in their chosen fields.

In addition, her first grandson received his degree last year. With 22 more grandchildren already around she could be eligible in time for some kind of special grandmother prize.

Mrs. Ziegler, a native of Stuttgart, Germany, was honored during a special ceremony in the presence of her seven sons, Tech officials announced Tuesday. It was the first time the Zieglers had all been together in eight years.

STUDENTS 23 YEARS

Except for the years of World War II, she had a son at Tech every year from 1927 until 1950 when the youngest was graduated.

"At one time we had three sons in Tech during the depression," she recalled. "That was the hardest time."

Her husband died in 1947 while two of the boys were students. A daughter was graduated from nearby Agnes Scott College and now is Mrs. Clyde Dunn, wife of a missionary in Formosa.

The Zieglers arrived in this country in 1908 and settled in suburban College Park.

The sons:
Dr. Waldemar T. Ziegler, regents professor of chemical engineering Georgia Tech; Carl W., owner of a laundry and cleaning business, Weatherford, Tex.; W. Fred, superintendent at Swift Manufacturing Co., Columbus, Ga.; Walter H., senior test engineer, Wright Aeronautical Corp., Woodbridge N.J.; William R., owner and president, and Frank R., vice president, Cornwell Tool Co., Atlanta; and John M., sales engineer, Trane Co., Richmond, Va.

EUB CLOSES 40TH SESSION

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Reports from its committee on Christian Social Action came before the 40th General Conference of the evangelical United Brethren Church Wednesday — the last full day of business sessions.

The committee report covered recommendations for the denomination's stand on such items as racial matters, nuclear testing, divorce and capital punishment.

Delegates Tuesday night approved a plan for the reorganization of four European Conferences which embrace 77,000 members. It includes creation of a church construction fund, pension fund and a student exchange. Responsibility for these activities now will be vested in the Central European Conference based at Stuttgart, Germany.

Delegates from Canada received permission to establish a home for senior EUB members in Waterloo, Ont. The denomination's senior citizens home at Lewisburg, Pa., and one at Newton, Kan., were authorized to expand their facilities.

The General Conference also approved establishment of an EUB home for the aged in eastern Pennsylvania over the next four years.

The conference also approved including in Sunday School lesson material of the EUB the text of

U.S. PROTESTS RED HOODLUMS

MOSCOW (AP)—The U.S. Embassy has protested to the Soviet Foreign Ministry against anti-American demonstrations during the Cuba crisis.

A note delivered Tuesday by the King James Bible version as well as that of the Revised Standard Version.

The conference agenda today includes election of members to various boards. It closes with the installation of its seven-member board of bishops and general church officers Thursday.

plained about the apparent inability or unwillingness of the Soviet authorities responsible for the maintenance of public order to take appropriate measures to protect the embassy.

"The crowds were allowed—indeed aided—to form in close proximity to embassy buildings," the note said. "Individuals were permitted to throw objects which endangered embassy personnel and defaced and damaged embassy property."

The note demanded compensation for the damage and measures to prevent a recurrence of the disorders.

In the largest outburst, about 3,000 persons massed at the embassy for 3½ hours Saturday. They splattered ink on the 10-story building and hurled bottles

100,000 Handicapped Placed In 3 Years

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Placement of more than 100,000 handicapped persons in gainful employment in the past three years represents "a record of unprecedented progress in a field that had for so many years been sadly ignored," says Gov. Lawrence.

His report on the number of persons rehabilitated by the state since January 1959 was given on Tuesday night by Welfare Secretary Ruth Grigg Horting to the 10th annual meeting of the Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

Bronze plaques were presented to three Pennsylvanians for outstanding service to the handicapped. They are George T. Watt, Pittsburgh, a staff assistant at the Bettis Atomic Power Laboratory; Morris Nochnan, president of the Flash Trimming Co., Philadelphia; and Dr. David Gelfand, cardiologist at the Philadelphia General Hospital.

YOUTH KILLED

LEWISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—James R. Doyle, 20, Lewistown, was killed Tuesday night in a car-truck collision on Route 22, about 2.5 miles west of Lewistown. He was pronounced dead-on-arrival at Lewistown Hospital of a fractured skull.

STUDENTS ARE TOLD NOT TO HARASS NEGRO

By VAN SAVELL

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Amid signs of new trouble, the Justice Department sent its No. 2 man to the racially troubled University of Mississippi on Halloween Eve.

Rowdy students quickly got this warning: quit harassing Negro James H. Meredith or face federal contempt charges.

Nicholas Katzenbach, the deputy attorney general, flew in from Washington in the wake of a fire-cracker barrage on Meredith's dormitory Monday night.

L. L. Love, dean of students, later told a group of students Katzenbach had announced that anyone arrested in future disturbances would be charged with contempt of federal court.

TROUBLE FLARES

Tom S. Hines, director of student personnel, gave announcements of the warning to the campus radio station for broadcast, quoting Edwin O. Guthman, Justice Department press officer.

Even as Katzenbach flew in, trouble flared anew on the campus where rioting killed two and injured scores because of desegregation just 31 days ago.

Somebody threw a soft drink bottle at a car carrying Meredith. The bottle crashed through the closed window of a rear door. Fragments of glass cut one of the four federal marshals riding with Meredith.

The incident occurred as Meredith returned to his dormitory from dinner in the student cafeteria.

FEAR TROUBLE

Katzenbach's appearance gave an indication of the importance the Justice Department attaches to the possibility of more trouble over Halloween — traditional holiday for mischief-makers.

The No. 2 man behind Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Katzenbach held a press conference where marshals put Meredith on the campus and soldiers kept him there in the face of rioting a month ago.

The warning of contempt citations apparently grew out of orders issued by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals demanding the enrollment of Meredith and the end of a 114-year-old policy of segregation at Ole Miss.

"I would hate to see any of you boys arrested," Love told a gathering of students in a dormitory.

The university called off a football pep rally scheduled for Tuesday night, fearful of the prospects of upwards of 2,000 students meeting in one place to whip up enthusiasm — even for Ole Miss' traditional game with Louisiana State this weekend.

The New York Mets were shut out less than any other National League team in 1962. They were blanked six times yet finished last.

Hodges Proposes Tax Package Split

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges suggests the administration's plan for a 1963 tax cut be handled separately from tax reform lest the whole package be tied up in a congressional wrangle.

Hodges told a news conference Tuesday that tax reduction for corporations and individuals is the chief goal. He said it might be possible to write a temporary tax cut renewable after a year or two on condition Congress voted a reform then.

DE GAULLE TO RETAIN OFFICE

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle announced that he will remain at the helm of the French government even though only about 47 per cent of France's registered voters backed him in a referendum last Sunday. He had a majority of those who did vote, however.

De Gaulle's anxious for a showdown with the nation's politicians, had said he would resign if the results of the referendum were "weak mediocre or doubtful." But he did not specify the minimum Newscaster Lowell Thomas, 70, world traveler and author, will be on his way to the South Pole when next Tuesday's New York State elections are held, so he has applied to the Dutchess County election board at Poughkeepsie, N.Y., for an absentee ballot.

The referendum approved a constitutional amendment proposed by De Gaulle to provide for election of presidents by direct vote of the people. All of the nation's politicians except Gaullists contended he had violated the constitution by not presenting his amendment first to Parliament for approval.

In the vote 61.76 per cent of the valid ballots were cast in favor of De Gaulle's proposal. Due to stay-at-homes and other abstainers, the vote represented only 46.3 per cent of the registered voters. De Gaulle's backing in previous referendums had never been less than 56 per cent of the electorate.

De Gaulle presided today at a Cabinet meeting to review results of the referendum. Cabinet sources said he put emphasis on the 61.76 per cent approving vote.

Lerner, composer and lyricist, have announced that their first team effort for Broadway will be a musical dealing with extra-sensory perception. The show, scheduled to open next April 4 under the title "I Picked a Daisy," is the first collaboration by Rodgers since his affiliation with Oscar Hammerstein II, who died in 1960.

John C. Daly, television newscaster and host on the CBS program "What's My Line?" has become the father of a 6-pound, 11-ounce son. Mrs. Daly is the former Virginia Warren, daughter of Chief Justice Earl Warren. The infant, born in New York City, is the first child of the couple, married in December 1960. Daly has three children by a previous marriage.

Former Army Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, 63, now president of the American Red Cross, was reported improving rapidly but still quite weak from his Sept. 26 lung operation at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington. The former supreme Allied commander in Europe suffered from a lung inflammation. The hospital said he is out of bed part of each day but not yet receiving visitors.

JURY CHARGES GAMBLER WITH 2 VIOLATIONS

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Joseph Moriarty, who police say left more than $2.5 million in gambling loot lying around when he went to jail earlier this year, has been convicted of two more gambling charges.

A federal court jury convicted him Tuesday night of failure to register for a $50 federal gambling stamp and failing to pay the federal 10 per cent tax on gross receipts from a numbers game operation in June, 1961.

On a third charge, accusing Moriarty of trying to bribe two federal agents, the jury deadlocked and Judge Thomas F. Meany declared a mistrial. He set no date for sentencing on the other two charges.

Moriarty could receive up to a year in prison and a fine of up to $5,000 on the gambling stamp conviction and a $10,000 fine on failure to pay the tax.

The cases were not connected with the torture linked to him. Last July while Moriarty was in prison two caches of money — one exceeding $2.4 million and the other of $168,000 — were found in Jersey City garages. Police said the money belonged to the taciturn, lone wolf numbers man. Moriarty has refused to discuss the board.

Plane Drops Tank On Florida Beach

PATRICK AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force reported Wednesday that a fighter-interceptor jet plane accidentally dropped an auxiliary fuel tank on a New Smyrna Beach street Tuesday.

The information office here said the plane was flying from Langley Air Force Base, Va., to Patrick when the 250-pound tank broke loose.

The tank, with about 25 gallons of fuel, fell on a residential street, tearing a hole 12 feet long and 4 feet deep.

No one was hurt and damage was confined to the pavement.

A sore arm limited Frank Lary of Detroit to only 14 starts and a 2-6 record in 1962.

PRELATES SEE SHORT MASSES

VATICAN CITY (AP) — In a three-hour session Wednesday prelates at the Roman Catholic Eucharistic Council talked of a need to keep sermons at Mass "brief but substantial."

A spokesman said the council fathers, at their closed meeting in St. Peter's, emphasized that the worshiper should not be overlooked in considering liturgical changes.

The council Wednesday ended its third week, still debating its first topic a reform of liturgy, or public worship.

Attending Wednesday's session were 2,230 prelates, the smallest number yet. Attendance has been dwindling daily, with almost 400 members already absent, mostly for trips home to handle diocesan affairs.

Arkansas Reports Nine Polio Cases

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Nine cases of paralytic polio have been reported in Washington County in northwest Arkansas and authorities said today a vaccine program will be started Sunday.

Dr. Paul K. Heerwagen, county public health officer, said four of the nine cases are of the bulbar variety.

David Matthews, 9, of Fayetteville, died last week of the disease. The bridge-tunnel across the mouth of Chesapeake Bay will cost $139 million and is scheduled for completion late in 1963.

Speakers Wednesday included Archbishop Paul J. Hallinan of Atlanta, Ga.

A four-day recess, longer than usual, was scheduled because of All Saints' Day and the Sunday anniversary celebration of Pope John's coronation four years ago.

New Satellite To Measure Size And Shape Of Earth

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A "flying light" satellite soared into orbit Wednesday to measure the size and shape of the earth in an experiment which could produce more accurate world maps and establish guide lines for tracking men to the moon.

The 355-pound satellite, named Anna, rocketed away from Cape Canaveral at 3:08 a.m. atop a Thor-Able-Star booster. An hour later the Defense Department announced it was in a successful orbit about 700 miles above the earth.

The first stage pushed the package to the edge of space. The second fired for two minutes, then shut down and coasted for 25 minutes before restarting its engine to eject its satellite into orbit high above Ethiopia at a speed of nearly 18,000 miles an hour.

GET CLEAR SIGNALS

Officials reported that clear signals were being received from the payload.

Because the rocket was fired on a northeast heading in the direction of the Soviet Union, the Defense Department announced time and direction of launching in advance. Sources said this was done to alert the Soviet Union so that the Russians would not mistake the rocket for a hostile missile.

Official name of the satellite is Anna 1B, with the letters standing for Army, Navy, Air Force and NASA, the participating agencies. The "Firefly" nickname derives from four high-intensity xenon gas lights designed to be photographed against a background of stars as they flashed on and off at designated times.

The first launch in the program, Anna 1A, failed last May because of rocket trouble.

The blinking beacons — plus other precise radio, navigation and tracking instruments — were to help ground stations calculate distances on the globe and the general shape of the earth's surface and strength of its gravitational field with accuracy not possible before.

NOT SO STRANGE A COMPLAINT

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — A University of Oklahoma foreign student explained to an American English his problems with English.

"Actually, I have no trouble with English," he said. "It's just the idioms."

When Romans made Ephesus capital of their Asia province, the city's only rivals were Constantinople, Alexandria and Antioch.

WASHINGTON (AP) —

The Army has issued a draft call for 6,000 men in December.

The total is 2,000 above the October and November quotas and is the highest callup since the 6,500 of last June.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) —

Craven didn't show up for jury duty Tuesday but he sent word that he wouldn't mind a bit if the judge sent a deputy to bring him in.

Craven, an insurance agent and Air Force reservist, was called to active duty last weekend.

WEST LONG BRANCH, N.J. (AP) —

Mary Lavenia Mount, 102, died Tuesday at her home.

She was a sister of James R. Mount, West Long Branch mayor for 24 years, who died in 1953 at the age of 92.

MACON, Ga. (AP) — Mrs. DeWitt Vaughn gave birth to twin girls Tuesday and her husband was given the day off by his employer.

But about noon, Vaughn, 42, decided to return to his job—operating a large earth-moving machine. He was driving the machine across a dam between two lakes when it skidded down a steep incline and overturned.

Vaughn was killed.

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy has been awarded the Newport Preservation Society's antiquarian medal for inspiring a national interest in the decorative arts.

The award, made annually for an "outstanding contribution in the field of decorative arts," was announced Tuesday night at the society's annual meeting.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Three sisters in Dayton have this togetherness thing down pat.

All had babies within a 10-day period, all delivered by the same doctor at the same hospital. They all had rooms on the same floor in the hospital.

Mrs. Joseph V. Gacetta's 5-pound, 7-ounce girl was delivered Oct. 19. Then came a 7-pound, 11-ounce boy for Mrs. Edward Fuchs Oct. 23 and a 10-pound, 2-ounce boy for Mrs. Edward C. Woolf Jr. last Monday.

Space-age chefs have prepared squeeze-tube roast beef, semi-solid chicken and noodles, dehydrated beef stew and diced chicken in gravy, and bite-size patties of ham, sausage and hamburger.

GSA APPROVES $280,225 FOR ERIE MUSEUM

HARRISBURG (AP)—The General State Authority has authorized construction of a historical museum in Erie at a cost of $280,225.

The museum was one of three new projects, costing a total of $379,000, approved Tuesday at the monthly meeting of the authority's Board of Directors.

Charles Stoltz of Erie was appointed architect for the museum project, which also includes restoration of the custom house and cashier's house.

REVERSE DECISION

The other projects are a $48,782 dining room addition to Kriner Hall at Shippensburg State College and $50,000 worth of athletic facilities on West Chester State College's south campus.

The board also reversed a decision of last month to take $1.1 million from the $5.5 million allocation for a youth development center near New Castle and add it to the $4.4 allocation for a similar center in Bensalem Township, Bucks County. Western Pennsylvania protests resulted in restoration of the original plans.

In other action, the authority: —Canceled a $31,000 project to construct a district office in Lackawanna County for the Forests and Waters Department and spread the money among district offices to be built in Lycoming and Potter Counties and a ranger dwelling in Pike County.

OTHER ACTIONS

—Reduced by $34,562 the $162,500 appropriation for planning and design of a science classroom building and planetarium at Clarion State College.

—Agreed to increase the $620,000 estimate on construction of an electronics classroom building at Edinboro State College by $400,000, subject to legislative action.

Recommended —Thalheimer and Weitz of Philadelphia to design the academic services building at the Pennsylvania State University for $138,438.

CUBAN EXILES REJECT TRUCE

MIAMI Fla. (AP)—Cuban revolutionaries made it clear Wednesday that despite U.N. acting Secretary-General U Thant's mission to Havana they mean war, yes, truce no.

The Cuban Revolutionary Council sent word to Thant that any deal he might make with Fidel Castro would not block armed action against the dictator.

The council, major anti-Castro alliance, declared it could not recognize a pact with the Cuban regime which it called a Soviet

MRS. FLORA LEISTER

TANEYTOWN — Mr. and Mrs. Merle Stiffler, Fairless Hills, Pa., spent the past week with Mr. Stiffler's mother, Mrs. Cris Stiffler, and her brother, Sheridan Henry, York St.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hiltbrink, R. 2, spent the weekend with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hesley, and daughter Joanne, at Roslyn, Pa.

World Community Service will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at Trinity Lutheran Church.

Family Night and a covered dish supper will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the parish house of Grace United Church of Christ. All families of the church are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Roberts of Trinity United Church of Christ, Takoma Park, will be the guest speaker. Bring one covered dish for two.

Mrs. B. J. Arnold, Frederick St., is spending some time with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Nicol and family, at Washington Grove.

Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide and Mrs. Hubert Null will attend the convention of the Woman's League of Gettysburg College Thursday.

Members of the Carroll County subleague from the Taneytown area who will attend the banquet are: Mr. and Mrs. Wilhide, Mrs. Stanley Jennings, Miss Eliza Senft, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Baumgardner and Mr. and Mrs. Null.

Mr. and Mrs. George Motter and family, York St., attended the 40th wedding anniversary Sunday of Mrs. Motter's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Karnitz, in Annapolis, Pa.

Rev. and Mrs. Frederick Fulmer, New Foundland, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Newton Six Jr. and daughter Donna, Middleburg, Md., and Robert Colliflower, Thurmont, were Saturday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Smith, Antrim St.

Recent guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Six, son, Jay, Frederick; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hahn, son Phillip, Thurmont; Mrs. Ella Bell and Mrs. Mary Hess, Keymer, and Mrs. Marion West.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sullins and daughter, Martha Jane, Baltimore, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sullins, St. Louis, Mo., spent the weekend with Mrs. Thomas Sullins' mother, Mrs. George Martell, E. Baltimore St., who accompanied them home for a visit.

Mrs. Lloyd B. Wilhide attended province.

Anti-Castro groups girded for war despite what appeared a cooling-off period during Thant's Cuba visit. Generally they expressed little concern over President Kennedy's promise not to invade Cuba if Soviet missiles are withdrawn.

They indicated, there are other means of ousting the Castro regime.

a pre-convention board meeting of the Women's League of Gettysburg College Wednesday on the college campus.

LA. Cmar. and Mrs. James Baumgardner and children, Jo Ann, Lisa and Chucky, of Alexandria, Va., were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. Baumgardner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baumgardner, W. Baltimore St.

The following infants were baptized in Trinity Lutheran Church Sunday morning at the 10 a.m. service: Christopher Scott, son of Charles and Bonita Becker; Gerald Crumbacker, son of Harold and Doris Fair; Jeffrey Wayne, son of Donald and Evelyn Gunther, and Martha Jane, daughter of Thomas and Mary Sullins.

NEW SCHOOL LEGISLATION IS PREPARED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Debts of school districts merged by the mandatory reorganization law would be combined under legislation being prepared for the 1963 General Assembly by state officials, according to the executive director of the Governor's Committee on Education.

The official, David Gerard, said Monday night the debt pooling is part of a legislative package drafted by his committee, the Department of Public Instruction and the attorney general's office.

Debts of the merged districts would be combined because the facilities "will be the assets of all," Gerard told a meeting of the West Hanover Township Civic Association.

Other proposed bills, Gerard said, would: —Provide transportation subsidies for all districts, regardless of their class.

—Continue all subsidies currently received by a district.

—Provide for election of school directors at-large in merged districts, with a minimum of nine directors to a district.

—Increase the basic state subsidy from $3,800 to $6,400 per teaching unit.

Health

What is an egg without salt?

Tasteless, to most people.

Man cannot live without salt.

The body needs it to function.

Salt deficiency is dangerous.

Through the kidneys and glands.

United States produces salt.

Obtained from mines and wells.

Annual output, 30 million tons.

One-fourth the world's supply.

The living learn from the dead.

The future builds on the past.

And so it is with autopsies.

An autopsy provides proof.

As to the cause of death.

An autopsy advances knowledge.

That helps save other lives.

It resembles an operation.

And is not a disfigurement.

Autopsies certify diagnosis.

Relatives know the truth.

What causes pain in the chest?

The patient with a chest pain is anxious to know why.

Chest pain can be a small upset.

A case of simple indigestion.

Or the aftermath of strain.

Chest pain of a serious nature.

Can be a sign of heart disease.

Or severe lung congestion.

So, as to a pain in the chest,

Diagnosis is doctor's dilemma.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service reported

Wednesday increases in radioactive iodine in pasteurized milk in a number of areas during August and September as a result of both U.S. and Soviet nuclear testing.

Palmer, Alaska, had an average of 720 micromicrocuries per liter of milk, the highest listed during September.

CHECK STUDENTS

TOKYO (AP)—Police warded off 500 Marxist college students who tried to march on the U.S. Embassy in a pro-Castro demonstration Wednesday.

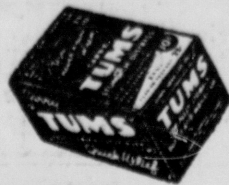

The students, members of the "League of Marxist Students," scuffled several minutes with 300 riot police but were unable to push through their lines to the embassy front gate 200 yards away.

GAMBLING IS BIG ISSUE IN IDAHO VOTING

By EARLE L. JESTER
BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Gambling is a red hot issue in Idaho in this election.

A candidate who wants to open Idaho to Nevada-style gambling and another dead-set against it are battling for the governorship.

The pro-gambling candidate is Democrat Vernon K. Smith, 50, a Boise attorney.

He seeks to unseat Republican Gov. Robert E. Smylie, 47, who is bidding for a third term after holding the governor's chair for eight years — longer than any other man Smylie has tagged Smith "the man with the green eyeshade."

The gambling issue might seem strange for a state far from any large population center, but it has been about the only one in the campaign. Efforts to drum up interest in issues other than gambling generally have been unavailing.

6-MAN PRIMARY

Smith won the Democratic nomination in a six-man primary election field, basing his campaign on support of a program calling for legalized casino-type gambling on a local option basis.

He said his plan would bring more tourists to Idaho and result in expansion of resort areas. He pointed to the growth of the Las Vegas area in southern Nevada, where gambling is legal.

Smylie says Smith's program "could only create an economic and moral cancer in the body politic."

"Gambling breeds crime," he says. "Idaho has the lowest crime rate of all the 11 Western states. Nevada has the highest — nearly

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a political candidate gets tired of hearing just before election time:

"Joe, this is no time to slow down. Yesterday you only shook 3,000 hands and kissed 75 babies."

"They love you in the 1st Ward all right. It's in the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th wards that you're in real trouble."

"Somehow we got to get up $500 more for placards—even if your wife has to take in washing."

"You've already indorsed tax cuts, motherhood, and the federal highway program. What we need is a hot new issue. How do you stand on the boll weevil?"

"The best argument I can think of her sending him to Washington is that it'll get him out of town."

"Remember, Joe, if you get three times as great as Idaho's.

CHALLENGES AHEAD

"We are a vigorous, young, growing state. There are many changes and challenges ahead. But the way to meet these challenges is with a sound and sensible state government dedicated to all of the people of Idaho."

Smith is carrying on his campaign independently of other Democratic candidates for state and congressional offices. Democratic party leaders generally opposed him prior to the primary.

Former President Harry S. Truman spoke in behalf of Democratic candidates during an appearance in eastern Idaho in September. But he spoke out against gambling, terming it "the worst thing in the world."

Smith accused Truman of "disloyalty to the Democratic cause" and declined to attend a breakfast honoring the former president.

elected I don't expect you to forget me. After all, I passed out more handbills for you than anybody."

"We could accuse them of character assassination. Our candidate certainly is a character."

"We're coming to another crossroads, Joe. Put your shoes back on. It's time to make another speech."

"What do you mean you can't eat goulash? Don't you realize this is a Hungarian section?"

"The boss from the 3rd Ward just to phoned. He says he wants you to do something for his brother-in-law now, not later."

"FORGET PROMISE"

Family Food Facts

If you are concerned about the food budget it will pay to check the ads before you plan your shopping trip this week, advises Tom Piper, Penn State Extension Marketing Agent. You'll find most meat cuts costing the same as last week but there will be quite a variation in what different stores feature. Look for specials on beef steaks, chuck roasts, how you stand on birth control, the tariff, the Common Market, Cuba, thermonuclear warfare and, uh, things like that."

"According to our latest secret poll, Joe, only 10 per cent of the voters are against you. The other 90 per cent don't even seem to know you're running."

"Oops, he dropped a baby. Well,

pork steaks, chops, fresh picnics and fresh hams.

Pork roasts are fast becoming a seasonal good buy as increasing supplies push prices down. To get the best buy for your money, compare prices on a cost-per-serving basis rather than on the cost per pound. A fatty, heavy boned rib end roast may be no bargain at all, even if the price is very low.

Have you noticed the coupons in newspapers and magazines for orange concentrate? The pack of frozen concentrate is 66 per cent greater than last year. Processors were faced with the problem of cutting prices or advertising, so they decided to advertise. Between September and November, 190 million off-price coupons will be placed in newspapers, magazines and Sunday supplements. On top of the heavy pack to be sold this season, the latest USDA crop forecast predicts another record supply of oranges ready for harvest. About one-third of the crop is usually sold fresh and the rest is processed.

Many canned foods are outstanding bargains this year because of heavy supply. Processors started prices off very low this year and many retailers have been passing the low prices on to shoppers as weekend features. Peas, corn tomatoes, cling peaches, fruit cocktail and pears are a few items now receiving heaviest attention.

Apples, cranberries, Emperor grapes, and citrus are leading values at the fruit counter. Banana supplies are currently low resulting in higher retail prices. Persimmons and kumquats are in peak supply this month and will provide you with something different.

Fresh vegetable prices are increasing steadily as supplies now come from more distant producing areas. Potatoes, cauliflower, cabbage, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, celery and turnips offer

BETTE DAVIS WILL SUB FOR 'PERRY MASON'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Necessity may prove to be the mother of welcome dramatic invention as far as CBS' "Perry Mason" show is concerned.

Raymond Burr, who has played Erle Stanley Gardner's indomitable trial lawyer for five seasons, greatest value this week. Lettuce prices will be higher than week ago as a shift in supply areas is now taking place.

Smaller size eggs, cheese and mushrooms are budget-priced now. Consider each of these items if you are interested in economy in food buying this week.

ble trial lawyer for five seasons, will enter a Los Angeles hospital for minor corrective surgery in December, the network announced. As a result, the company must make several shows during his convalescence without the star.

According to present plans, Paisano Productions which makes the weekly courtroom drama — and of which author Gardner is an officer — plans to sign big-name guest stars, including Bette Davis to substitute.

The unavoidable absence of Burr could have a salutary effect of boosting the program out of the format to which it has adhered through the years, including that weekly courtroom confession by the murderer — usually from a spectator's seat.

The program, switched this season to Thursdays from its old Saturday night spot has dropped out of the Nielsen "top ten" rated shows but even in its new position it is still pulling a hefty share of audiences.
